SUCCESS IS A JOURNEY . . .

For some a four-year struggle is coming to an end. For others an odyssey has just begun. But for all a larger journey continues — the journey of satisfaction and fulfillment — the odyssey of success.

Life begins with birth and ends with death, but in between lies the myriad of human endeavor — myriad offshoots of a larger path leading onward.

Here we begin a journey back through time gone by. A chance is presented to reexamine the paths we've chosen. A chance to be delighted with the good and to ponder the roads we've passed by.

When all is said and done, when 1986 has faded into the shady world of memory, we will recognize that the real triumph lay not in attaining our goals, but rather in the excitement and effort we have put out.

All of us have spent at least nine years of our lives learning, preparing for, and exploring the world. From those first halting steps into the first grade classroom to the confident strides in reaching for our high school diploma, we have been moving forward.

And yet, the itinerary does not end with a mere piece of paper, nor does it call for a long lifetime of exertion. The itinerary calls for success, and success is a journey — not a destination.

You got an A on the algebra exam; you studied hard.
You got your driver's license; you persuaded Mom to take you to the DMV.

You rented the spiffy Rolls-Royce limo for Prom; you worked three straight months for the money.

You made it through your senior year with two-hundred and change in credits; you see four years of hard work in them.

You start receiving the flood of college acceptance letters; you find a further passageway to explore.

Every student, from 1.0 to 4.0, has seen that the blessing comes with the effort — that the reward is the work.

All of us know the relief of finishing the term paper. And all of us know the pride we feel in accomplishing ten pages of mental struggle and physical stress.

No reward is gained without effort, and all accomplishments are the result of dedicated work.

We have all survived this year-long trek into the unknown, and we have all matured a little, learned a lot (hopefully), and experienced everything from sixth period math classes to yearned-for weekends; from irate parents to understanding friends; from losing seasons to CIF championships.

All crammed into one year — and yet the journey continues ...

NOT A DESTINATION

THIS IS OUR JOURNEY

SUMMER

"So, what did you do this summer?" This ever-common back-to-school question often receives a dull retort. But if you were one of the twenty-one students who pioneered a field studies trip to Bahia de Los Angeles, Baja, Mexico, you probably had a lot more to say. Images — cool, sparkling blue water, a warm, soothing sun — flood into your mind. Sounds like paradise? Maybe so, but those who went know that there was more than mere idle bliss and relaxation. The objective of this expedition was to expose the students to a program involving observations of a multitude of life forms, in the sea, as well as on land. FUHS science teacher Kevin

Flint coordinated the program in an effort to promote an interest in the exploration of the natural environment . . . Meanwhile, back in Fullerton, students visited the usual hotspots. Disneyland (and Videopolis!), Knotts' (Studio K), and, of course, the beach. They adorned themselves with everything from trendy broaches to Billabong beachwear while they cranked up the radio . . . Yet among all this, a new breed was emerging — The Freshmen, who were now enjoying, maybe even dreading, the end of their last summer as sub-scrubs

Representatives of the four stages of educational evolution compressed together in the FUHS stadium stand, paused at attention, to the melody of the National Anthem — the first step in the journey of the school-year has been taken. The opening ceremonies are not only symbolic of the commencement of the FUHS school year, but also that of the district. This tradition originated back when Fullerton was the only high school in the district, and has been continued with pride throughout the decades. This is evident by the attendance of prominent community figures, no-

School spirit soared as the cheerleaders led the class competitions for the innovative "Spirit Stick." A.S.B. President Doug Winingham stated that the ceremonies "introduced the freshmen to the tradition and spirit that FUHS has maintained for almost a century, and started the year off on a high note."

1985-86 HOMECOMING ROYALTY

TRADITION

Picture "just for a moment"... nominations, the return of alumni, the walk, spirit week, the Homecoming assembly, the picnic, and the dance. It's the chaotic but exciting fun of the traditional Homecoming activities. The essence of the festivities and by far the most thrilling is the announcing of the nominees. In honoring the chosen few, a walk through the academic court in lavish and bountiful attire is held. The captivating Freshman nominees were Miss Alison

Brown, Miss Jennifer Doolittle, Miss Bonnie Massey, Miss Jennifer Reiter, and Miss Leslie Waller. The entrancing representatives of the Sophomore Class were Miss Sarah Blackley, Miss Catherine Blake, Miss Jill Caronica, Miss Kelly Gillespie, Miss Julie Reuf, and the unique Mr. Doug Franklin. The stunning Junior Class nominees were Miss Lisa Berry, Miss Gina Fernandez, Miss Johanna Kaaiawahia, Miss Laurie Lammens, and Miss Nancy Schultz. The exquisite nominees for

Senior Class Princess and Homecoming Queen included Miss Jennifer Eder, Miss Jolie Gunther, Miss Sharon Owens, Miss Julie Ramsay, Miss Carrie Thomas, and Miss Jerine Voss. In addition, the six distinguished nominees for Homecoming King were Mr. Alfie Agnew, Mr. Curt Daggett, Mr. Garrick McNey, Mr. Bob Petri, Mr. Ben Runnels, and Mr. Victor Williams. The festivities continued with the return of the alumni for the annual Homecoming picnic. Famous alumni were honored as they were presented with a picture for the "Wall of Fame." Many showed their spirit in the old red and white by wearing varsity jackets of assorted years and proudly singing the alma mater. Homecoming is definitely an exciting festivity to be a part of as it becomes more and more special each year.

A DREAM FOR

Just for a Moment"...Hearing this theme song evokes nostalgic emotions and affectionate whispers in the minds of each couple who attended Homecoming 1985. October nineteenth was definitely an enchanting night to remember. As the couples strolled into the elaborately decorated gym, a delicate red rose was presented to them in order to save these romantic memories. Jennifer Brooks, ASB Commissioner of Social Activities, who organized the entire event believed that "It was a lot of hard work, but by 8:30 Saturday night, it all paid off." The South Gym was transformed into a rock'n roll paradise with the silver and tuscian color scheme and KROQ's Kaho Manor Video Show. A non-alcoholic bar was available to all the thirsty dancers with such drinks such as daquiries and pina colodas. The dazzling Homecoming Queen Carrie Thomas commented, "I was really proud and excited to be queen for Fullerton High School. It was a great honor and an unforgettable experience. The dance made it all worthwhile."

Keith Wasnak urgently questions the photographer, "Should I kiss her? Should I kiss her?"

Couples arrived ecstatic to the dance, especially Robin Boberly, Keith Macintyre, Denise Farnsworth, and Alfie Agnew.

A tender moment is definitely one to smile about between Brent Bice and Leslie Brunner.

Richard Camest wonders why he doesn't give Vicki Silva roses more often.

ASB business is a serious topic of conversation for Leslie Waller and Doug Winningham.

SPIRIT MANIA STRIKES INDIANS!

Is it an epidemic? Is it a disease? No, it's all F.U.H.S. students running madly around campus dressed as everything from Hawaiian tourists to guy cheerleaders. On Monday, the students dressed as funky Hawaiians. Tuesday, everyone stalked the halls with their trench coats and pistols disguised as the Mafia. Wednesday, rolling out of bed and into your car was the thing to do for Pajama Day. Girls dressed up as linemen for the football team, and guys concealed themselves as fancy cheerleaders for Turn-About Day on Thursday. Finally on Friday, the extra-spirited students were brightened with the school colors for Red and White Day. Though some people looked quite strange, the spirit was flowing throughout the school. Spirit Week was great success that was filled with a great deal of fun and laughter, but above all, school pride was in almost every student on campus.

ONCE UPON A MATTRESS

"Once Upon A Mattress" is the musical version of the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea". In this humorous version, the story is told by the local minstrel as he sings "Many Moons Ago". As the play starts, the kingdom is ruled by a mean blabber-mouthed queen and her meek mute king. The law says that no one can marry until the Prince does, so the whole kingdom sings "An Opening for a Princess". However, the Queen plans to never marry her son. Meanwhile, Lady Larkin and her lover Sir Harry must get married soon (she's pregnant) and so they search for a princess. Sir

Harry returns in a while with a princess (named Winnifred) who Prince Dauntless falls in love with. The Queen, however, hates her — the Princess comes from a giant swamp. Though wild, Princess Winnifred tries to convince everyone that she is "Shy". Eventually, the Queen makes up a test to prove she is worthy — making it so hard that the Princess will fail. The Queen and the Wizard sing "Sensitivity". Meanwhile, Princess Winnifred becomes homesick and sings "The Swamps at Home", and Lady Larkin has a fight with Sir Harry and decides to run away. She is helped by the King, the

But Princess Winnifred doesn't get tired, especially as the Prince begins to sing The Song of Love. Later alone she sings Happy Ever After and dreams of her prince. At the same time the King tries to show his son the facts of life with a Man to Man Talk. Also that night, Sir Harry discovers Lady Larkin's plan, and they make up, singing "Yesterday I Loved You". To help them out, the Minstrel and the Jester team up to find out about the test. Without knowing, however, Princess Winnifred still cannot fall asleep. In the morning the Queen believes the Princess has failed and is shocked to find that she passed. The Queen still tries to stop the marriage, but the prince stands up to her for the first time in his life. Suddenly the Queen loses her voice and the king gets his back taking control of the kingdom and his Queen. Of course they all live happily ever after.

DANCING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

What is Ski Bum?? . . . Snowflakes, a Christmas tree, snowmen, a sleigh, a ski lift, Santa Claus, an ice-skating pond, the North Pole, fireplace, snow, stockings, the candy cane walkway, ski sweaters, scarves, icicles, presents, angels, Christmas carols, the d.j., a starlit sky, wreaths, red and green, mistletoe, eggnog, poinsettias, double dates, romance, Dec. 14, fun, friends, fantasy in frost, memories.

Hosted by the Pep Squad, Ski Bum was a snowstorm of excitement. The sultry south gym was transformed into the chilly climate of the North which required wool sweaters and scarves. Couples arrived anytime after 8:30 ready to boogie down to the newest hits by W.E. Party Productions. Wayne Daniels turned into Christopher Kringle for the evening with his warm smile, jovial laughter and miniature candy canes serving as a major attraction for all. With special thanks to Vida Northrup and Nancy Hunyadi, the gym was equipped with a fireplace, a ceiling-high Christmas tree, a snowman, a sleigh and an ice-skating rink. Students topped off the night by singing Christmas carols such as "Jingle Bells," "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," and "Silent Night."

A 5 ... 6 ... 7 ... 8 ... step-kick-kick-leap-kick-touch. Turn turn-out-in-touch-step-step-kick-kick-leap-kick-touch. Turn-turn-touch-down-back-step-pivot-step-walk-walk! Weeks before the concerts, before and after school, these words rang out under the school's cafeteria and in the dance production's dance room. FUHS Dance Production had an exciting year, having two dance concerts and performing in the district dance festival, which was held at Fullerton this year. The dance festival consists of all of the schools in our district taking classes together and then performing for each other. It sounds fun, but ask any of the dancers — they can tell you that it was not easy! The 33 girls and one boy, which make up the dance production, had to work very hard to achieve their goals, sometimes practicing on the weekends. Nancy Tracy supervised the dancers who volunteered to choreograph the dances at the two concerts. And judging by the applause from the crowds that went to see them perform, this year's dance production was at its toe-tapping best.

The Vocal Ensemble, directed by Ron Perry, had a superb year. Doing more than their share of concerts, the Vocal Ensemble had their own tour during 1985-86, traveling to other schools, a number of concerts in Orange County, and many holiday concerts. Certainly, the Vocal Ensemble had a very busy year. Besides the concerts, the Ensemble met every weekday morning before school. Indeed, it was a terrific year for the Vocal Ensemble and for all who heard them. Every second period Ron Perry directs the concert choir, traditionally known as a group who has given hundreds of people pleasure and enjoyment. Besides performing in many school programs and concerts, the choir spread joy to others in the winter and spring concerts. The Fullerton High School Band gave us wonderful sounds of music this year. Directed by Greg Haake, the band played in a number of concerts and performed many outstanding half-time shows during the football games. Highlighting this year's performances were the annual Christmas show and the Fine Arts Department's Final concert.

SADIE'S GOES TO HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood Glitter, movie stars, excitement, and luxury. These are a few of the aspects the idakas tried to capture when they planned this girask guy dance. Couples could come as anything related to Hollywood from tourists to directors. Some of the favorite costumes were Fred and Wilma Flintstone, Pebbles and Bam Bam, the Mickey Mousekateers, a prince and a princess, tourists, and M&M's. Oscars were given out for the couples with the most original, best, and funniest costumes. The music was supplied by Midnight Productions and pictures were offered by Hot Shot Photography. On Thursday, March 6, FUHS students competed in a Donkey Basketball tournament. Teams were divided by grade level, and players filled out applications stating why they wanted to compete. The tournament was played round-robin, with the Sophomore team becoming the eventual champions.

The Sophomores started off the evening's action by playing against the Freshmen. This game turned out to be a close one with the Sophomores narrowly winning by a score of 12 to 10.

The next match was between the Juniors and the Seniors. This game was even more tense than the first one. When the buzzer went off, the score was tied at eight each, signaling that an overtime was needed. Matt Zapf scored the basket that gave the Seniors a 10 to 8 victory.

Next on the agenda was the consolation game. This game would be played between the Freshmen and the Juniors. The winner of this game would take third place in the tournament. The Scrubs scored a big win over the Juniors 16 to 10.

Then came the game every one was waiting for: the face-off between the Seniors and the Sophomores that would decide the champions for the evening. Both teams had a good showing, but the Sophomore team won with a score of 12 to 8.

PROM 1986

Prom ... one of the final steps in an excursion through high school. Couples set sail aboard the elegant Queen Mary on April 26, 1986, traveling toward the shimmering sunset. Yet this was a very special sunset — It not only enhanced the romantic evening and symbolized the dusk of the senior's high school years, but also signified the approach of the dawn of their future. The British liner, the Queen Mary, was launched on her maiden voyage in 1934. Throughout the Queen's many years, she made lasting impressions on countless people, yet in our eyes, her most successful voyage will always be that of the FUHS Junior-Senior Prom.

ARE WE HAVING FUN YET?

Long lines and clumps of students blocked the breezeway. Phone calls from frantic parents flood to Room 86.

What's the cause of all the commotion? Well, the 1986 Pleiades Yearbook, of course!

This year's class worked constantly from May of 1985 to June of 1986, beginning with meetings with last year's annual staff and ending with the distribution of the books and the traditional stag dance in June of '86.

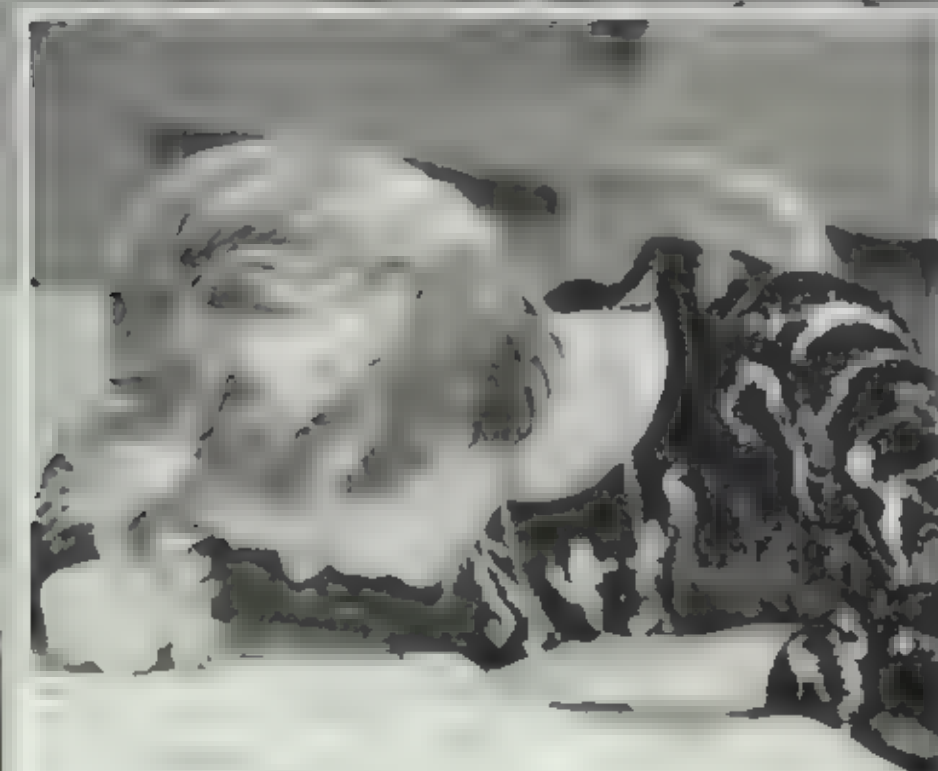

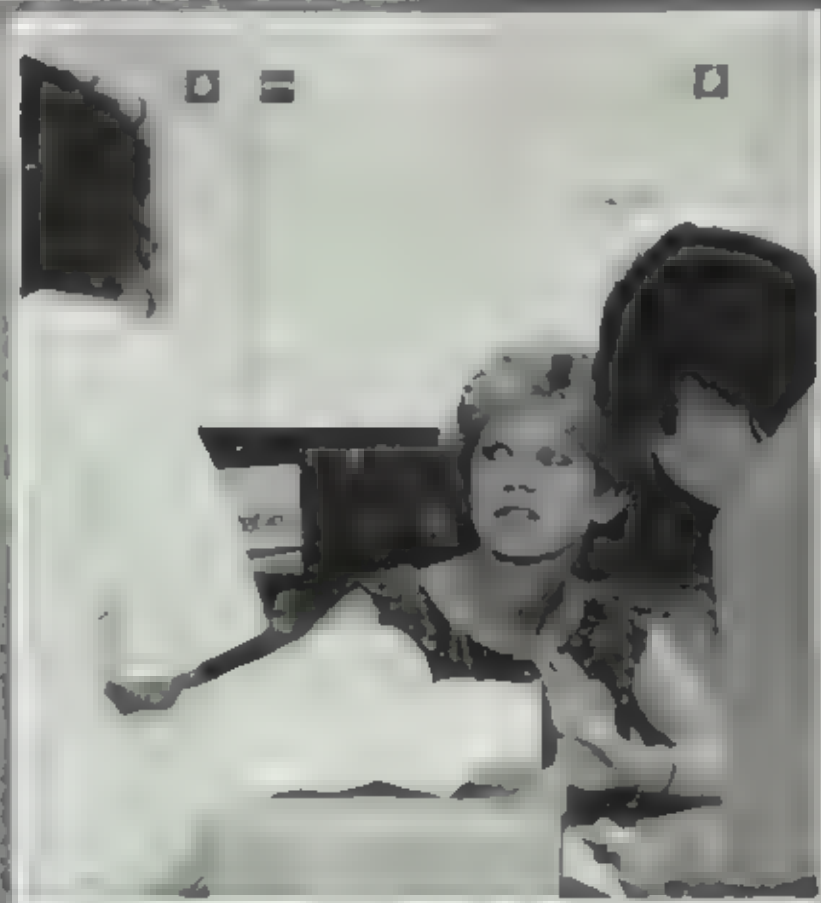

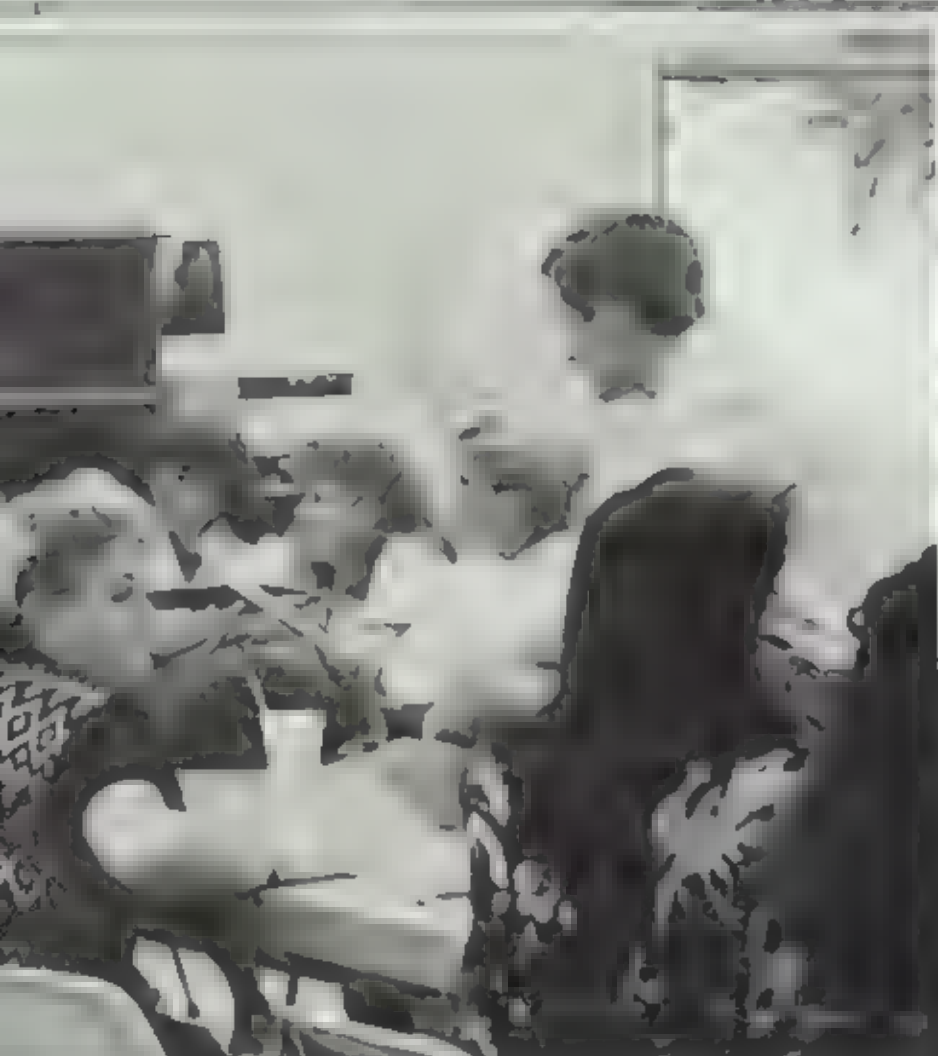

To do this, all 25 people on the staff had to have some form of organization with which to work. Each of the 336 pages of the book had to be drawn up, written, photographed, checked, rechecked, and checked again.

At times the classroom looked as if it had just been hit by downtown Fullerton's first cyclone. Rulers, pictures, layout sheets, pencils, and pens were often strewn from wall-to-wall and floor-to-ceiling.

With a lot of effort and much cooperation (not to mention innumerable headaches, thousands of hours of lost sleep, and a few nervous breakdowns) the absolute final deadline on April 15 was met, and this year's Pleiades was completed.

Most importantly, though, the staff had fun doing it!

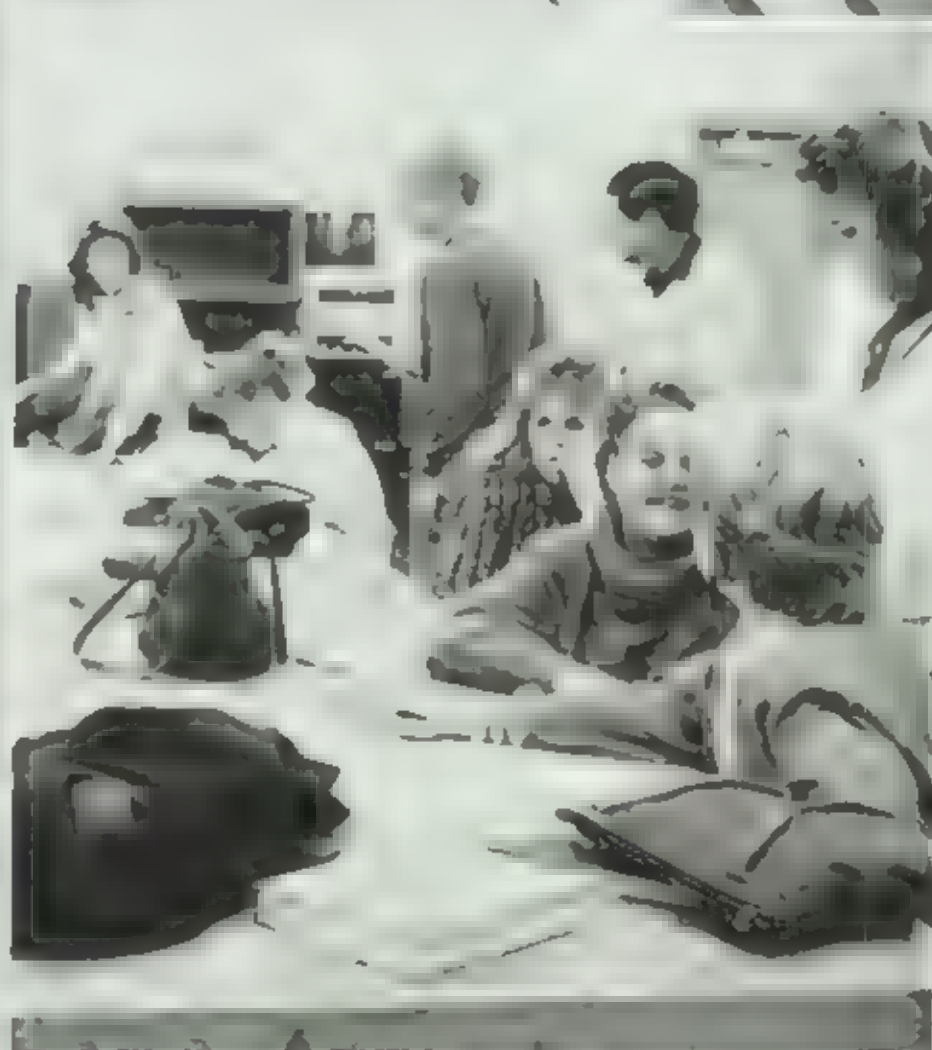

"What's right there?" exclaims Kristin Byrnes, I see a lot of things to give her more work.

Byrnes, a sophomore, diligently scribbles down her notes.

WE WANTED TO GETCHA
...AND WE GOTCHA

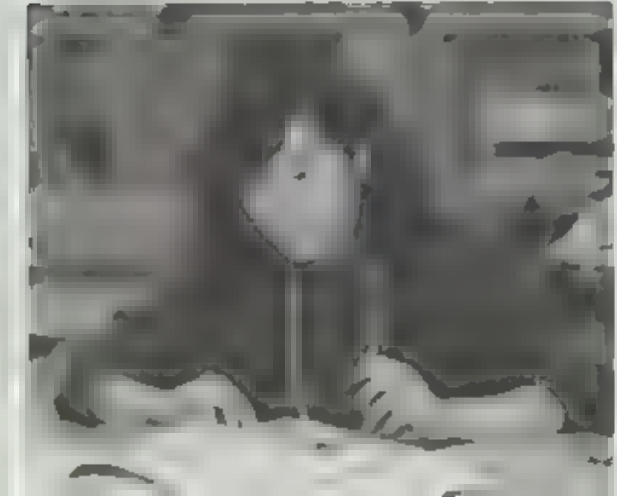

After a year of brainstorming, organizing, and trying to be creative until all hours of the night (and morning), the 1986 Pleiades finally came together.

As editors we've seen every picture of every event in the yearbook, and we've gotten to know all of you a little bit better. We're both glad to have had that chance and — to make this year even more special — we've tried a new approach to the 1986 edition. In some places we've planted whole new ideas, in others we've added a little bit of color, and in still more we've looked in past yearbooks to get a little touch of tradition. Hopefully we've come up with a book that you'll enjoy now, and be able to look back on later with a smile on your face.

We would like to thank all of you for the chance to chronicle this year in our school's long and colorful history. We hope you enjoy the Pleiades — after all, you're what it's all about.

Students' eyes grew large as they saw the pile of Pleiades dropped off in their classroom. The papers were snatched up like candy, to be read whenever possible, during a Shakespearean lecture or maybe a math problem session.

That newspaper which caused so much excitement was formed in the minds and souls of the writers. They wrote to inform the FUHS students and faculty of current events, students' opinions, and the football team's victories.

The editors started a year of changes for the paper. They were better organized, created quality articles, and brought in some new ideas. An activity that started just this year was a cartoon contest. Each month, student cartoonists would submit their cartoons for judgement. The best was published in the upcoming newspaper. Another innovative idea of the Pleiades was to have guest writers. With a small staff of 13 and only 6 returnees, they have found the writing load hectic. But having had guest writers, they received assistance from outside sources. The news staff was a small, but mighty group which blossomed into a one-of-a-kind work force.

Leslie Putnam leads the "brainstorming" session while Kim Haspe writes down the ideas.

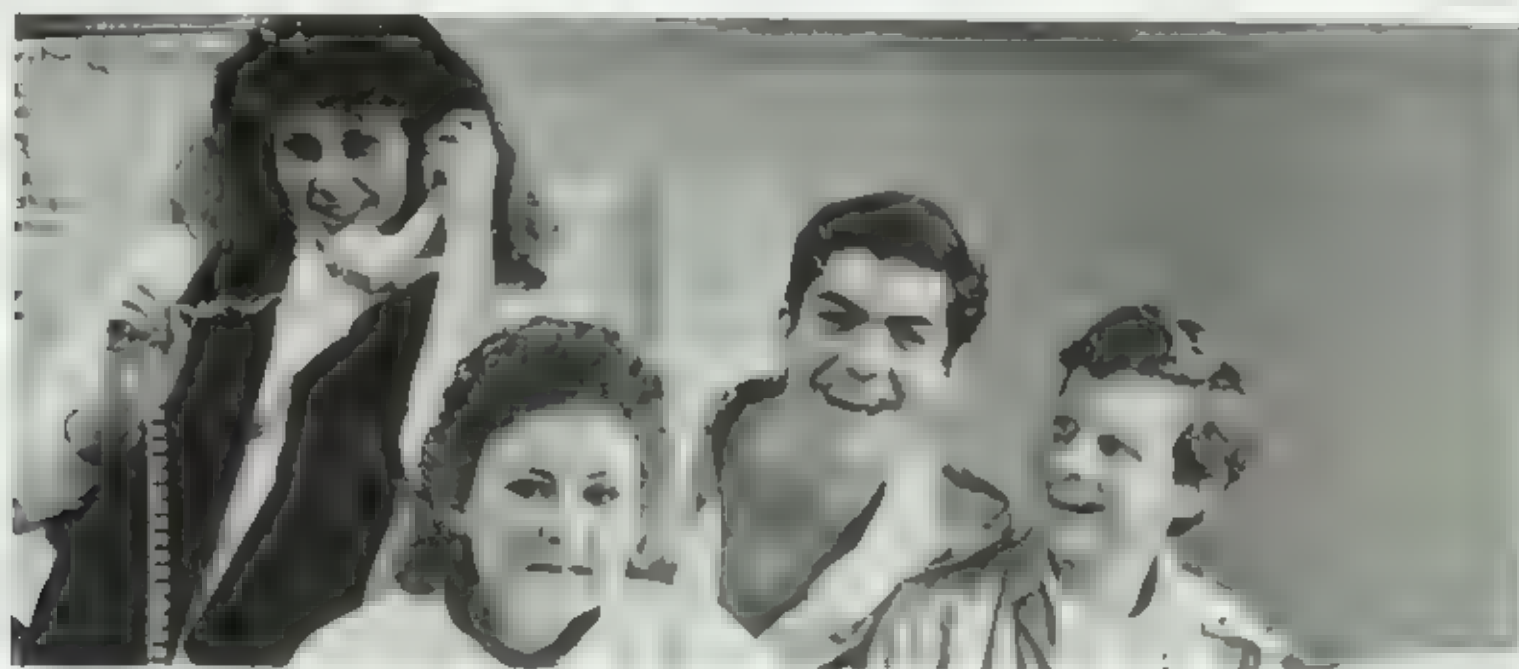

Lee Irons, Stacy Freeberg, Greg Mascia, and Josh Miller await their new assignments with great enthusiasm.

Mr. Tomas scrunches his brow at Perry Bruce's article "Massive rewrite" is the verdict.

Jim Biardi prepares his final paste-up board before sending it to the printer.

Josh Miller exhibits great concentration in critiquing the latest edition of the Pleiades.

ONCE A MONTH: THE PLEIADES TRADITION CARRIES ON

Leslie Putnam is cringing from deadlines. Stacy Freeberg is the socialite. Jim Biardi is having fun while Lee Irons sits in amazement.

Greg Mascio and Josh Miller laugh over the recent sports article in the Troy Oracle.

Stacy Freeberg puts the finishing touches on the Homecoming spread.

The Editor-in-Chief, Leslie Putnam (senior) stated that the class was filled with few but very qualified people. In writing for the Pleiades she realized "that the satisfaction of writing came from the people" that she wrote for. Another senior, Feature Editor Tracy Freeberg, reacted comically to the question of what made her come back each year. "fourth period lunch runs to McDonalds." But in all seriousness, she did admit that journalism was good on a college record and a great experience. Perry Bruce, a staff writer, was a transfer student in his senior year. "I like the eagerness of the writers," was his response to the inquiry of what made the class enjoyable. The youngest of the group was Julianne Whitaker. She discovered that being on the newspaper staff as a freshman was difficult and recommended that students "wait until they are sophomores" before joining the staff unless exceptionally motivated.

These four people were just a sample of the many writers on the newspaper staff. They only exemplify the abundance of enthusiasm felt by the entire class.

What a technique Jim Beard demonstrates - being able to do his work while "kicking back"

"What a mess!" The paste-up room is deserted and left in shambles after the scurrying around on the day of the deadline

The binding hold of Greg Mascio keeps bright eyed newcomer Julianne Whitaker under control

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the smell of the sea.
 It was a salty, fresh scent that I had never experienced before. The sun was shining brightly, and the waves were crashing against the shore.
 I felt a sense of freedom and adventure as I walked along the beach.

A LOOK TO THE FUTURE

1985-86 ASB PRESIDENT

Return with me now to those thrilling days of old — last fall. This was the time of ambitions, expectations, fears, and other assorted emotions. Now travel through that year, stopping to experience the good times, the bad times, the wild adventures, and the more subdued moments. Now whiz back to the present. Not bad, eh? Indeed, not bad at all. This year was certainly a testimony to a well and long understood concept of Fullerton High School — Tradition. Whether it be in the form of class rivalry, school rivalry, maintaining — and even more — raising the standard of excellence, or in instituting new traditions, this year was a success. Most important is the fact that you made it all happen.

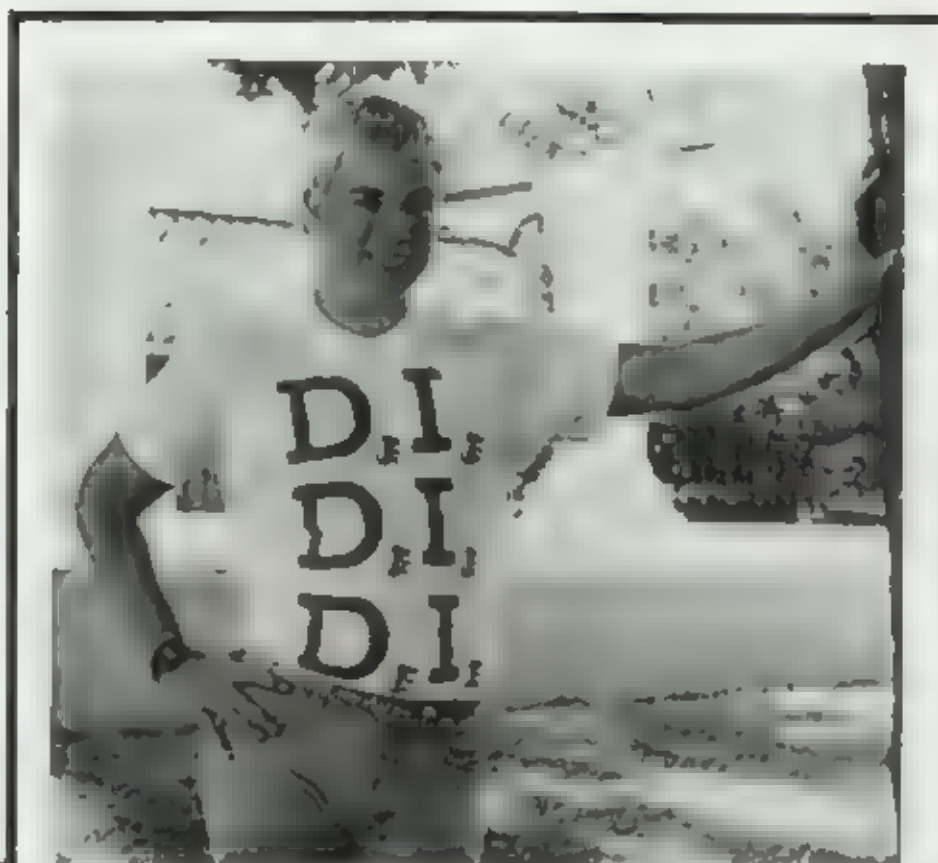

To the class of 1986, it's time to spit the scene; the call of the "real world" is daunting. With the memories and experiences, not to mention the education, we are well equipped to succeed. This school is special to us and is something we should never forget. Underclassmen, make the most of your years at Fullerton. Keep it strong and never lose the Indian pride!

I want to thank you all for allowing me the honor of being your ASB President. It is an experience that is just too special and rewarding to describe. Suffice it to say that I won't forget the challenge and success it has brought to me.

Since it is time to move on, I close with congratulations and best wishes.

Your ASB President

Douglas E. Winningham

ASB OFFICERS

ASB Vice President
Attie Agnew

"I enjoy being a leader in such a diverse school. I like to hear all sorts of ideas and put them into effect when possible. I like being the voice of the people. ASB is an exceptional experience with a close to impossible task to accomplish, and for those who dare to take it on: No guts, No glory!" Attie assumes the duties of president when Doug is absent and he presides over the Student Senate. He is also responsible for the Nomination Convention and of all elections throughout the year.

ASB Secretary
Porsche Shantz

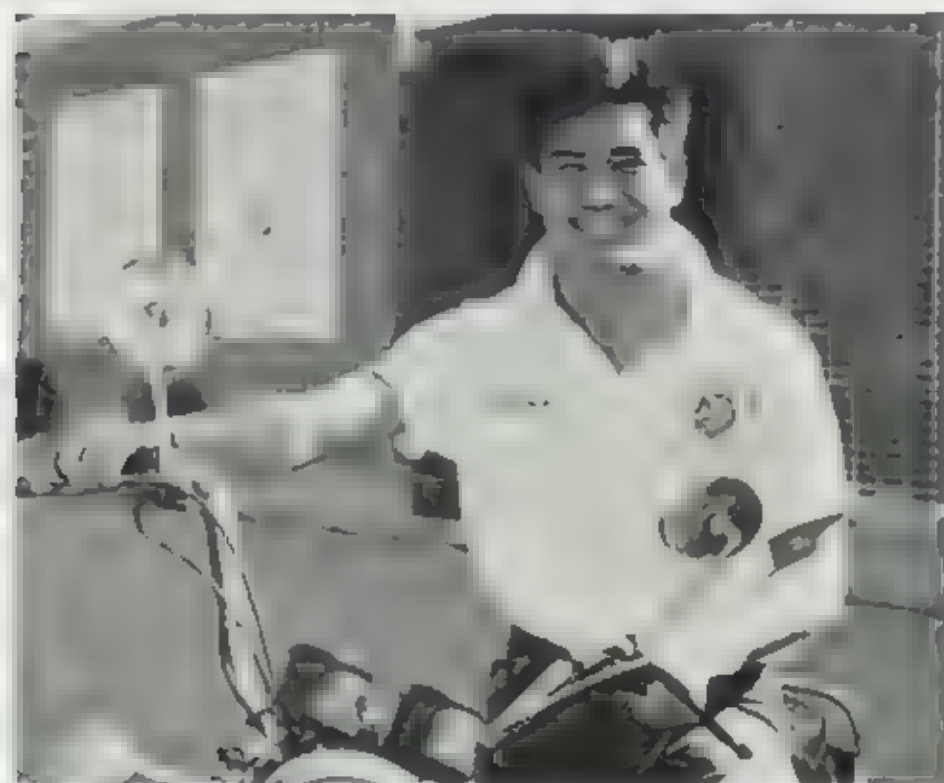

"The thing I enjoy most about my job is that I have a chance to be involved in every aspect of student life, but I really don't have to be a coordinator of any activities or areas." Porsche keeps the minutes of all Executive Board meetings and is responsible and willing to carry on any necessary correspondence for the ASB members.

ASB Treasurer
Viet Dinh

"ASB is one of the most memorable and valuable experiences of my high school years. The busy and active involvement in the different aspects of school organization is what makes ASB so enjoyable. I appreciate the chance to express myself, and to serve FUHS effectively."

ASB Auditor
Bastian Schoell

"My job is cool because I get to touch all the bucks that fly around school. I get to work with all ASB money, count it, bundle it and deposit it. I also love being Viet Dinh's savel!"

CLASS PRESIDENTS

Senior Class President
Garrick McNey

"I liked ASB because I was able to get involved with the school. I feel like I really contributed to my class. But what I really enjoyed was getting out of classes." Garrick, who is responsible for organizing and supervising all senior class sponsored activities and fundraisers, is the liason between the senior class and the executive board.

Sophomore President
Brent Hiitscher

"Well, I had a great time as Sophomore Class President. Organizing and selling the rings was a lot of work. The people in ASB are fun and helped me to get things done."

Junior Class President
Pam Shade

"Being the Junior Class President was an enjoyable experience. I was able to get to know many new people. Helping to get student activities together was great. We, my officers and I, tried to make prom one of the best ones ever!" Pam serves as a liason between the Junior class and the Executive Board.

Freshman Class President
Leslie Wallett

"I like being an officer and being involved with ASB because I feel when something is accomplished, I was part of it." Leslie is responsible for organizing and supervising all class sponsored activities and fundraisers.

Commissioner of Social Activities
Jennifer Brooks

"Serving as Commissioner of Social Activities has been a fantastic experience filled with headaches and rewards." The rewarding feeling of pulling off a dance topped all of the headaches.

Commissioner of Student Activities
Lalita Kumar

"My position as Student Activities Commissioner was very rewarding. I enjoyed planning and directing the various activities." Lalita initiates, plans, coordinates and supervises all ASB sponsored assemblies and any student activity on campus.

Commissioner of Student Relations
Mike Atram

What I particularly like about my position is the chance to help represent the students. I feel that the experience I get for being part of ASB will benefit my future years. The only disadvantage about my job is that I sit in front of Yvette Melendez. Mike is in charge of presiding over the Inter Club Council.

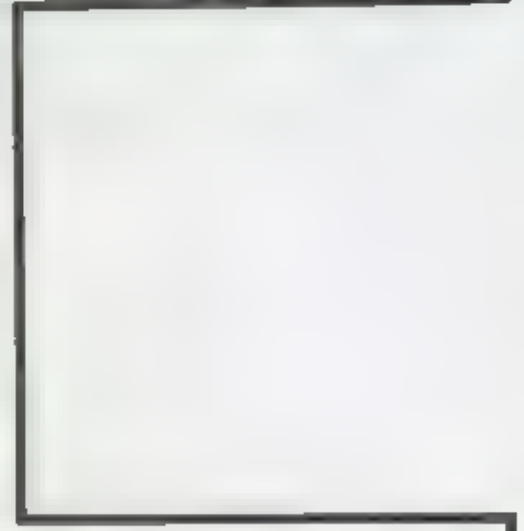

Director of Assemblies
Yvette Melendez

Assemblies are great because they cut class time down and I love to tell people what to do, even though they don't do it most of the time." Yvette is in charge of all assemblies that go on throughout the school year.

Commissioner of Community Relations
Mike Garcia

I like my office of Community Relations because it is very challenging. I have met a lot of neat people who have been great fun to work with.

WE RUN

THE SHOW

Commissioner of Communications
Jeff Middlebrooks

"I had a great time supervising the morning announcements this year. ASB is the only place where a farm animal can turn into a school wide sensation." Jeff serves as a public relations officer to the press.

Commissioner of ASB Fund-raisers
Heather Kish

"ASB was a good way to get involved in school activities. I met a lot of interesting people." Heather supervises the sale of ASB cards and all ASB sponsored fund-raisers, and she also assists other campus organizations with executive fund-raisers.

Director of Publicity
Debbie Boatner

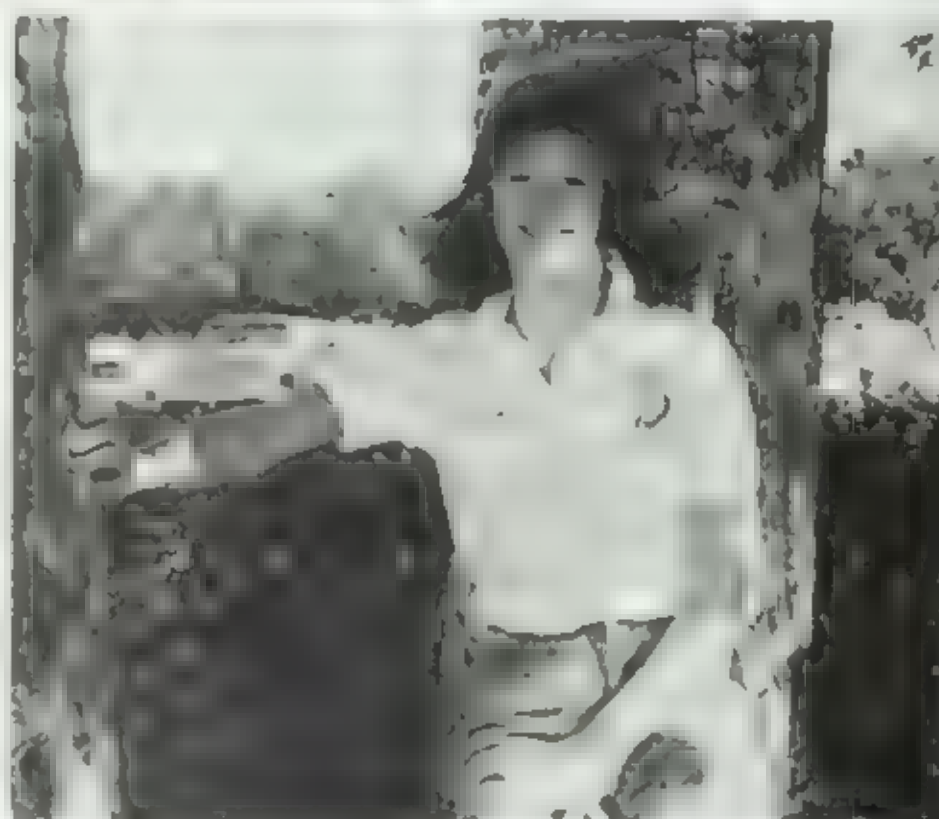

Being Director of Publicity has been a really good experience for me this year because I learned a lot about politics-good and bad-and it gave me a sense of accomplishment for my senior year, the artwork was a lot of fun too!" Debbie works with other commissioners in publicizing their activities.

Technical Director
Mark Ameriz

"I enjoy working with people, and find it very satisfying collaborating with others." Mark takes care of audio/visual services for pep rallies, assemblies, and music at lunch.

Campus Historian
Karen Bretz

"My job as Campus Historian has made my senior year very memorable. I feel ASB is a great way to grow emotionally through maybe the most important thing of all unity.

EX-OFFICIO

Deborah Jones
Pleiades Yearbook Editor

I love being a part of ASB for the school involvement it offers. I have been involved at Fullerton in other ways, such as Athletics and various clubs; however, I feel ASB offers a different, more unique, experience to high school. The dedication of its members is remarkable, and I enjoyed being a part of its unity. I feel privileged to have the opportunity to experience the workings of ASB.

Debbie is yearbook editor and has the main duties of volunteering for various committees and just plain helping out wherever needed. She also serves as a liaison between ASB and the Pleiades Yearbook.

Raul Villegas
Boys' Athletic Charman

My job as Boys' Athletic Charman is really great! I have a lot of fun relating to coaches like George Van Vleet, Marty Luczak, and Ted Erskin. I never really knew they could be such great guys. I also loved all the pizza parties we had in class to make it more fun — and of course it was Giovanni's! But my favorite part was putting footprints on Debbie Jones' rear end.

Raul was appointed to represent the interests of the Boys' Athletics department. His main duties are to attend Booster Club meetings and serve as a liaison between the Boys' Athletics department and the ASB.

Noelle Heusser
Girls' Athletic Chairperson

"I love being Girls' Athletic representative because I think that girls' athletics deserves a lot more credit and support than they've been getting in the past, and hopefully I've contributed to their growth. I have participated all four years in Fullerton's athletics should be recognized for their many improvements, as well as accomplishments."

Noelle serves as a liaison between the girls' athletic department and Executive Board. She works with Debbie Boatner, who is in charge of publicity for sports events.

Spirit Commissioner
Carie Thomas

"The things I liked best about serving as this year's Spirit Commissioner, were being involved in promoting school spirit, while also helping the cheerleaders and Spirit Club. It was an exciting year on ASB, which was filled with very special times that I will always remember. Carie is in charge of initiating and supervising all pep rallies."

Varsity Head Yell
Denise Fleming

"I like being on ASB because I had a chance to get involved in planning school activities. Promoting school spirit was really fun. I'm also fortunate that I have been on the Executive Board because the leadership abilities that I have learned will help me in future years."

Varsity Head Song
Jolie Gunther

"I have enjoyed being a part of ASB. It gave me a chance to get more involved and to meet a lot of new people. We had some great times in fourth period!" Jolie serves as a liaison between the Executive Board and the cheerleader advisor.

Varsity Head Flags
Karen Hanks

"Being Head of Flags has been a rewarding experience. It's really exciting to work with the student body promoting school spirit. Though it was a lot of hard work, the experience I had and the friends I met, made my efforts worthwhile." Karen is in charge of her squad and also administers points to the girls.

THE 1985-86 EXECUTIVE BOARD

Service and dedication — the two characteristics of the 1985-86 Executive Board. This year's ASB was not only a productive and worthwhile organization, but a supportive one as well. The members started off the school year with a very profitable Homecoming dance filled with special experiences for everyone. We had a number of Shadow Days with other high schools, which helped to promote positive school relations. In addition, ASB supported the Fullerton community by holding a can drive — Canned-Aid — for the Women's Transitional Center. Enthusiasm ran high for this event, and a pep rally was held to promote the cause. Another charitable event was the traditional blood drive. Fullerton students again pulled together for a large turnout of donors. Then, for the second year in a row, we put on a lip-sync contest that everyone enjoyed. Finally, the 85-86 school year ended with the spectacular "Good-Bye Assembly." Through it all, we worked hard and with dedication, but we always found time to just relax and enjoy the activities. We, the members of the 85-86 Executive Board, wish the best of luck to FUHS and the incoming members of next year's ASB. May your years be filled with great success.

1995 WAS THE YEAR IT WAS

OUR YEAR'S JOURNEY . . .

HIGH FLIGHT

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings
Sunward I've climbed, and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds — and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of wheeled and soared and swung

High in the sunlit silence, Hov'ring there
I've chased the shouting wind along, and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air
Up, up the long, delirious, burning blue

I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grade

Where never lark, nor even eagle flew

And, while the silent, lifting mind I've trod

The high untrespassed sanctity of space

Put out my hand, and touched the face of God

— John Gillespie Magee, Jr

NO MORE BLIND DATES

My best friend Laurie has one very bad trait
She constantly sets me up on blind dates
She, of course, has her very own boyfriend
She's sure, if I don't, that my life will end
I'm sick of them all, bad manners (and breath)
One more blind date will surely bring my death
I told Laurie "That's it, this has to end
I thought all along that you were my friend
Through chokes and tears she managed to splutter

"Sorry Karen, I'll try to do better
But I'm afraid that I'll have to confess
It's not over yet. You have to meet Bess's
Second cousin's brother's nephew-in-law
Who, cross my heart, has not even one flaw
So, once again, on the next Saturday night
I prepared myself for a God-awful sight!

My "dream date" was due by eight o'clock
sharp
Whose name, by the way, turned out to be Mark
The doorbell rang with a clamorous shout
Just great, even my hair hadn't turned out
So there he was, I couldn't help but stare
And I had thought this would be a nightmare?
He had raven black hair and eyes to match
I couldn't believe I'd made such a catch!
And then he spoke, "Hi there, you really look good
His voice rooting me to the porch where I stood
I muttered back some dim-witted greeting
Since all ability was lost for thinking

In the car, Mark sprung a question on me
'Okay, what would you like to do, or see?'
I immediately felt my heart sink
Come on brain, hurry up and try to think!
What I said next really steals the show
Uh, gee Mark, wherever you want to go
Boy, I was really in rare form that night!
I'd been both dumb and dull, no end in sight!
Then he suggested a movie nearby

"I've seen the picture," I said with a sigh
I had seen the next one he mentioned too
Some movie called "Desperately Seeking Sue"
Finally he asked, "What show haven't you seen?"
The one at the Fox," I said, tuning green
(Because I had really seen that one two times)

Next thing I knew, he had bought some popcorn
I shot him a look I knew was forlorn
When I eat popcorn, I belch like a cow
Nothing went right yet, why should it start now?
The show had started when I was aware
That at me, Mark had begun to stare
Caught, gazing vacantly at the old screen
Mark now knew that this one too, I had seen
"Don't you want your popcorn?" he wanted to know

I blurted, "Of course," still watching the show
I ate one piece slowly, and held my breath
Only two hundred pieces are still left
I felt something coming, tried to get up
But before I could, came a great hiccup!
An incredible force shook the whole room
Seeming to signify impending doom
It was so loud, it knocked off a man's cap
Then I spilled popcorn all over Mark's lap
A flaming red color flashed across my face —
I would never live down this awful disgrace

After the movie, he took me straight home
"I forgot about practice," was his moan
Who did he think he was trying to kid?
He'd say he'd "had fun", like guys always did
And promise to call, but he never would (I wouldn't answer, even if he should)
Finally, at home, Mark walked me to the door
No need to panic, no kiss was in store
I was stuck there, standing on feet of lead
He simply reached up and patted my head
I was sure he would add "Goodnight, Rover"
At least this date was finally over
What a disaster, I'd acted so dumb
I slept, hoping morning would never come

I was awakened by the phone's jangle
I struggled, the sheets were in a tangle
Believe it or not, it really was Mark
It turns out he had liked me from the start
He was sick of dating regular chicks
He was tired of their conniving tricks
Then he said I was honest, and normal
Would I be his date for Winter Formal?

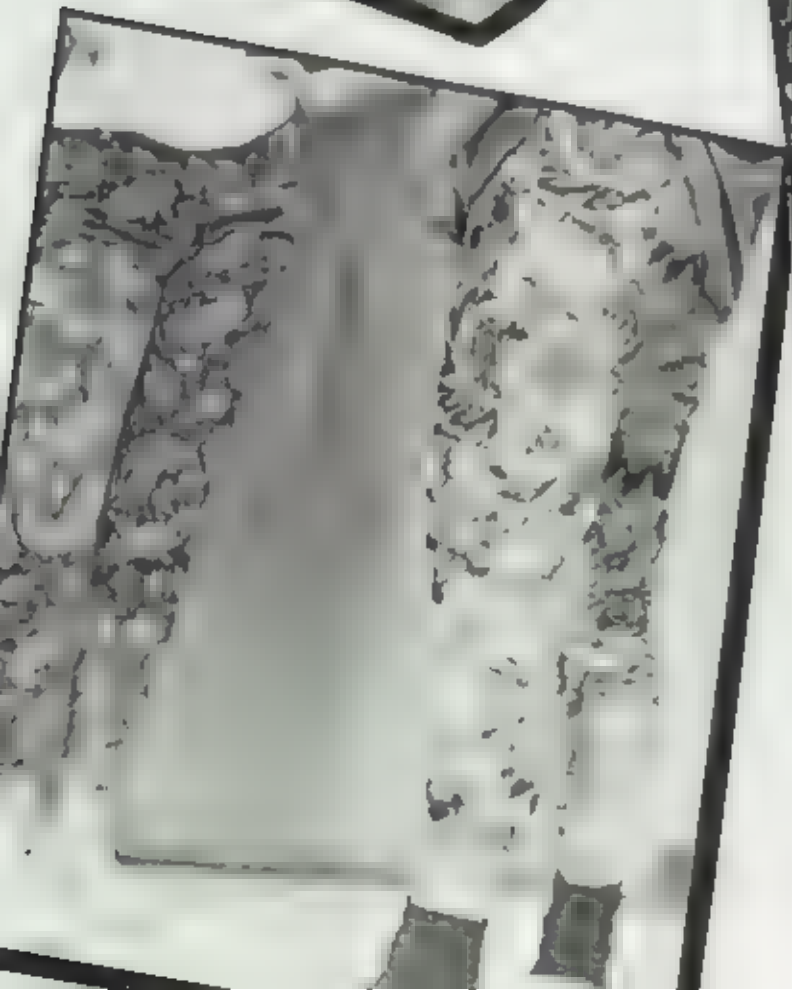

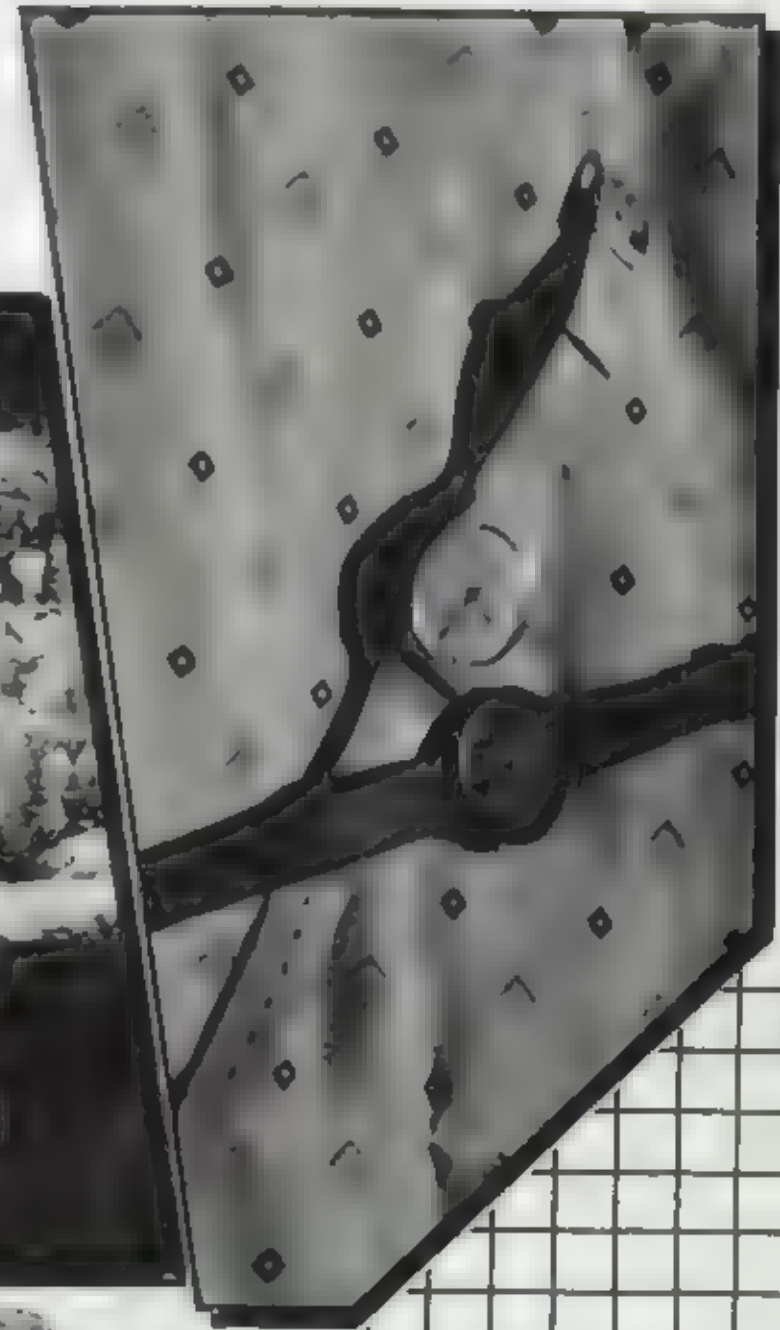

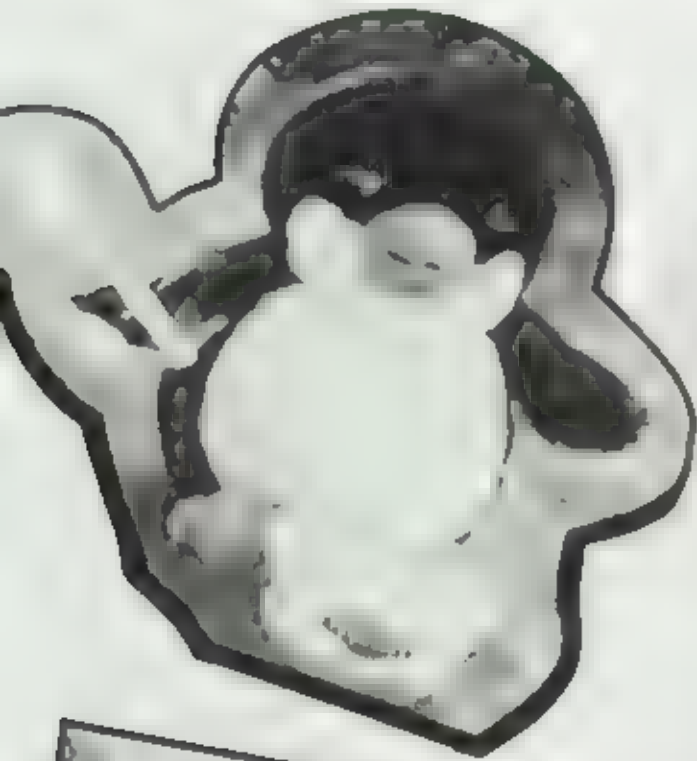

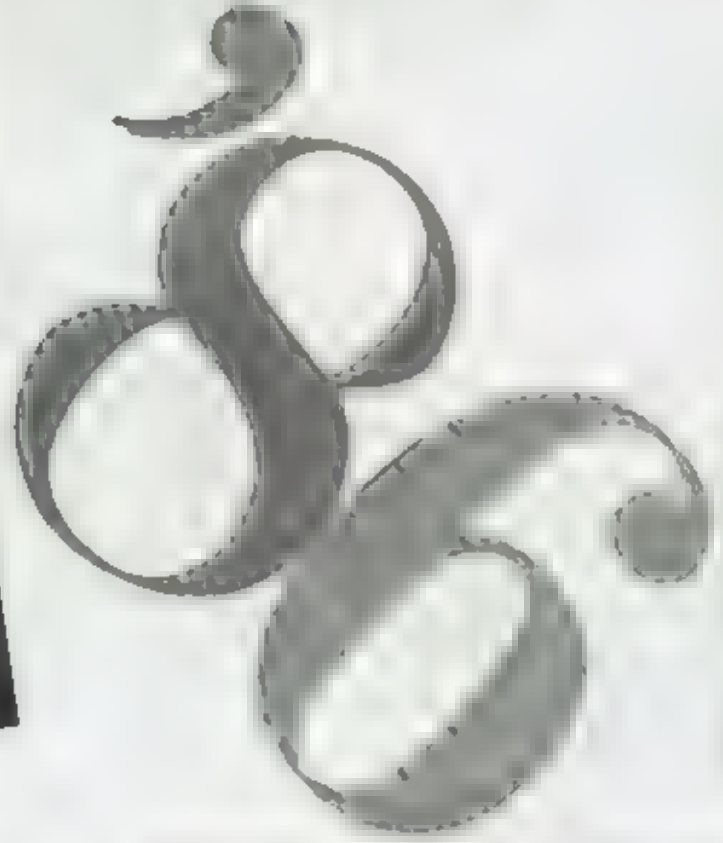

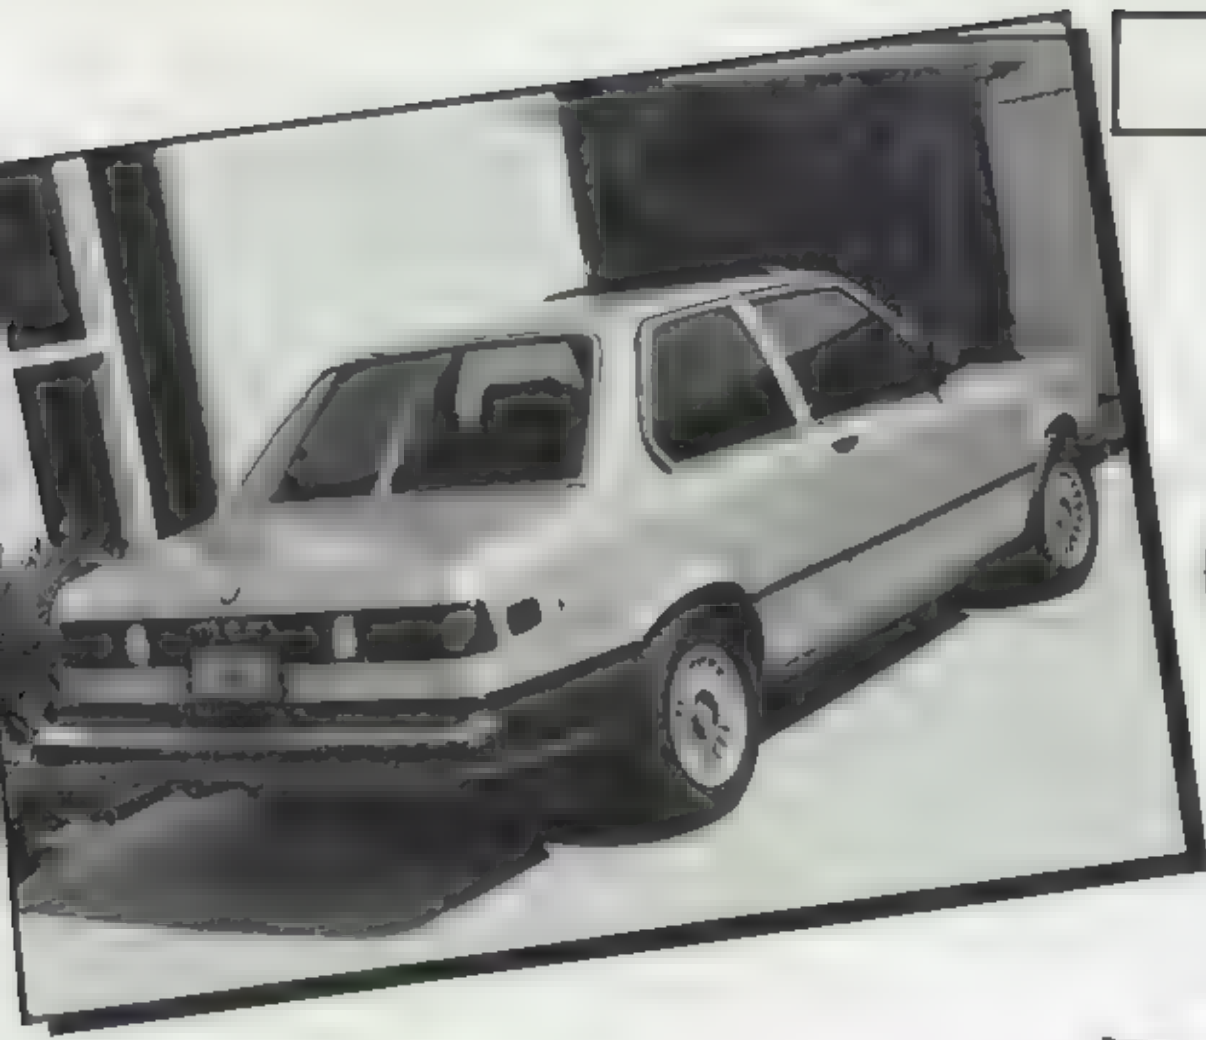

That was almost the end of my story
But I nearly forgot about Laurie
Laurie's own boyfriend left, he moved away
Now it was my turn to play
Every weekend night she starts to complain
About the dates I find her, (they are lame!)
So I remind her "Just wait for that spark
It takes a long time, but see, I got Mark

MUSIC ON THE MOVE

This year in rock music was a spectacular one for both new artists and old. Many artists of the past made comebacks this year — among them Aretha Franklin, Tina Turner, and Bob Dylan with his group Dire Straits. Pop rock saw the reign of supergroups Wham!, Tears For Fears, Phil Collins, A HA, and U2, capitalize on both albums and the new medium of music video. Avant-garde groups Depeche Mode, Howard Jones, Madonna, and the Thompson Twins also maintained a strong following. On the Heavy Metal scene Motely Crue, Twisted Sister, and Judas Priest kept their popularity despite attempts in Congress to rate music lyrics. But probably the biggest name in 86 had to be the Boss, Bruce Springsteen, whose "Born in the USA" album and blockbuster tour across the USA spread a new sense of patriotism.

The year in music also took a decidedly political turn as many groups such as Live Aid, Band Aid, USA for Africa, Farm Aid, and Artists United Against Apartheid contributed their time and effort to political and social causes.

Transition

WE CAME, WE SAW

WE'LL NEVER FORGET

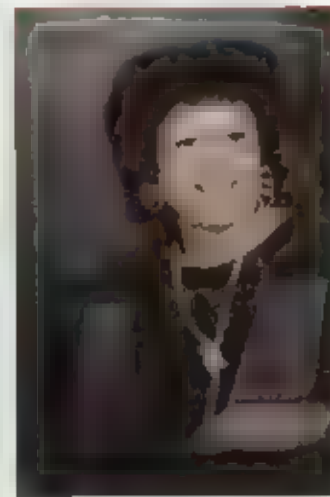

TRADITIONALLY SENIOR

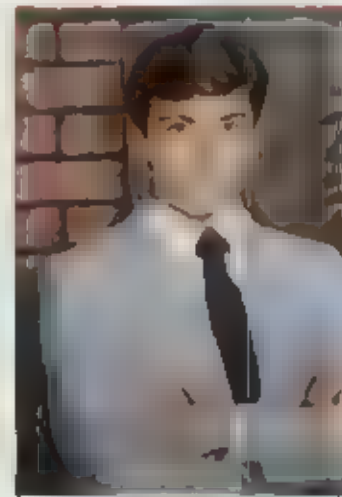

Tradition at Fullerton is as old as the school itself, spanning 42 years of history. Some traditions have long ago been forgotten, such as canoe races in front of the school. But others still remind us of days gone by. We still ring our bell for special pep rallies, and we still have our Pow Wow formal every winter. Senior Corner will forever be taboo to underclassmen, and The Block will always be a place to hang out after practice. With all the history and tradition of a century behind us, we have extra reason to be proud of our alma mater. When we reunite in 1996, Fullerton High will be as proud as when we left her.

CLASS OFFICERS

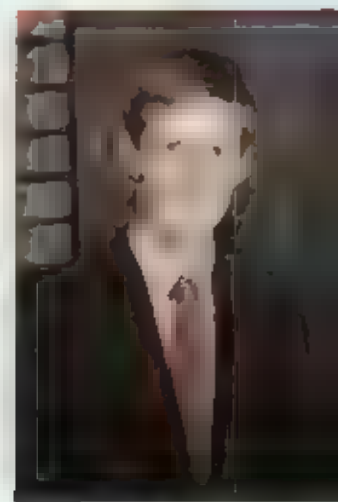

The class of 1986 will certainly produce its share of leaders. But the senior class President Garrick McNeely, Vice-President Bob Petri, and Secretary Julia Purcell have led us through a year-long journey we will not soon forget. Besides organizing Grad Night, a senior trip, and Senior Ditch Day, the officers commissioned Mrs. Judi Trasport to paint a stunning mural of Fullerton High, immortalizing our school forever. Our leaders have made 1986 an unforgettable year.

Super Seniors Eileen Kinney and Kristen Byrne always have time to spare to celebrate with friends

Eileen Kinney and Kristen Byrne "Best friends? Maybe so, but they are also two of this year's super seniors. Both have hit high in the tennis world, having played varsity all four years, and having held number one positions on the team. In addition, both are known for maintaining nearly all A's. The girls also served in ASB — Eileen as Junior class president and Kris as Commissioner of Student Relations. They added pep to the spirit department as well. Both performed two years on Drill Team and became members of the 1985-86 Varsity Pep Squad — Eileen a yell leader and Kris a songleader.

WE'RE ALMOST THERE

We had Senioritis, but we weren't seniors. We had massive loads of homework, but we weren't freshmen. We could drive to school, but we couldn't park in the senior parking lot. We were upperclassmen, but we weren't the Class of '85. We were juniors back in '84-'85, and though it was hard to believe that we made it through U.S. History, Chemistry, English, and Math all at the same time, we were willing to go through anything to become seniors. But we have many fond memories of that year, too. We remember the rainy night at La Mirada where we cheered our football team to a Cif championship. We watched our soccer team complete their season as undefeated league champions. We went to our first prom at The Reef in Long Beach. And we remember tearfully bidding our senior friends goodbye in June of '85 — looking forward to our day of graduation.

WE KNOW HOW TO HAVE FUN

As seniors, one of our major goals was to have fun! And, as usual, this was the easiest part of our year. Whether it was "decorating" senior corner or running through the Sunny Hills banner before the big football game, we always showed a sense of humor unparalleled by anyone, except Mr. Rooster. And from Homecoming dates to Prom sweethearts, we managed to always be together to share the special moments. There's no doubt that after we graduate there will be more parties and other friends, but no one will ever forget their senior year.

ONE STEP CLOSER...

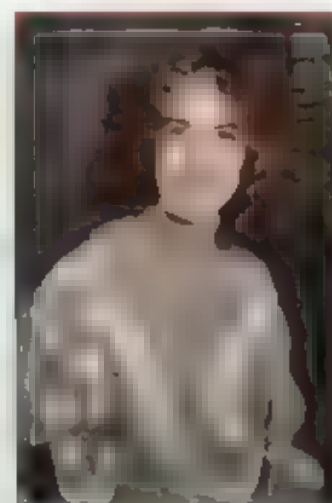

The sophomore year — for most of us it meant Biology, a break from history, Health, and Driver's Ed. Now we were able to advance in the world, being able to move up in the cafeteria line and having no more fears of being trashcanned by the seniors — as long as we stayed away from Senior Corner. But the best part was laughing the loudest at the new scrubs, watching them make the same stupid mistakes we had.

SUPER SENIOR

Ted Hewlett studies hard for yet another Human Anatomy practicum.

"Super Senior" Consider the words for a minute. No one would disagree that Ted Hewlett fits this "role" perfectly. At the top of the class academically, Ted was recognized by the Masons for two years, received Rotary recognition all four years, and became a National Merit Semi-finalist. Ted is also a leader, having served as President of the Thespians, CSF, and Speech Club. Probably Ted's biggest love is the theater—and he has greatly excelled in this area. Some of his school performances include "Godspell," "Cabaret," and "By The Skin Of Our Teeth." In addition, Ted has appeared in Fullerton's vocal concerts and Dance Company productions. He has appeared in La Mirada CLO's "Guys and Dolls" and "West Side Story" and SRO's "Barnum" and "Pippin", plus countless others. To top it off, he is performing in Sebastian's Dinner Playhouse production of "Hello Dolly."

JUST GET BETTER WITH AGE." —CHUCK WEISS

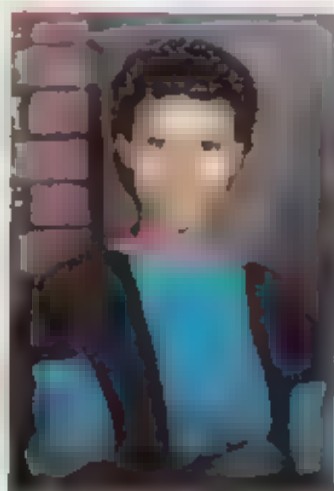

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Remember back in September of 1981 when we were all freshmen? (We were never scrubs!) Remember how many of us were trashcanned by the Class of '82? Remember the confusion? Remember all the controversy over our new graduation requirements? (No one is even sure today about what they are!) Can it be that those days are really four years in the past? Now the hairstyles have changed, the clothes have changed, and the music has changed. But the friends we made in our first few days at Fullerton High will last forever - just like the memories we have of them.

WHAT COMES NEXT?

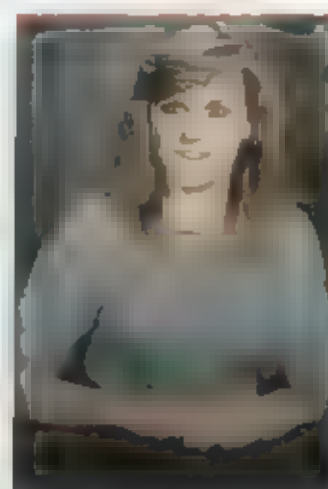

Now that we've graduated what's coming our way next? Sure, a lot of us are moving on to college to put in another four years of education in order to earn a decent living. But what else is in store? How about living alone - cooking your own meals, doing your own laundry, paying electric bills and—aaack!—phone bills. What about having to pay car insurance, $1.15 a gallon for gas and maybe even payments on a new car? But the independence and freedom we gain makes all the trouble worthwhile.

BEING A SENIOR IS. "TAKING THE SAT AND ACH OVER

The ocean—the mystery, the vastness, the unexplored depths—this represents our future. As underclassmen the high school years are calm and silent. As our junior year approaches we feel a slight tug toward unknown shores, and an undercurrent of indecision. Our senior year is a turbulent storm of college applications, SAT scores, and career choices. We struggle to keep our heads above water. Then, as the storms dies down, we find ourselves washed ashore, greeting the sun, whose rays illuminate our future.

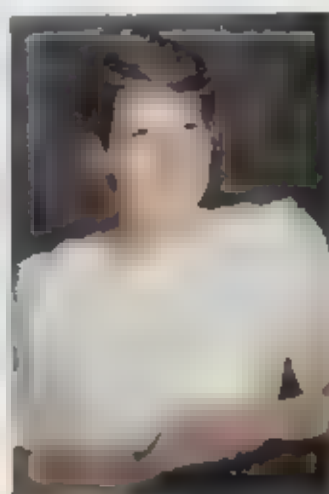

Oh my gosh!!" exclaims Mike Perez. "I've got a term paper due today!

TRADITION WITH A TOUCH OF TOMORROW

A CLASS OF CHARACTER EMERGES

Juniors are traditionally a class that is just gaining their individuality. They've been at FUHS long enough to know its inner workings but lack the seniority to be in charge. With the inspiration and leadership of President Pam Schade, Vice-President Joanne Hughes, Secretary Kristen Hemmerling, and Treasurer Nancy Schultz, the juniors headed into 1985 with eager anticipation. With money and Prom topping the list of necessary accomplishments, the juniors put on our second stag dance, held a T-shirt sale and a Valentine's Day flower sale. The hard work paid off in a memorable Prom aboard the Queen.

1985-86 Junior Class officers are President Pam Schade, Treasurer Nancy Schultz, Vice-President Joanne Hughes, and Secretary Kristen Hemmerling.

BEING A JUNIOR

A junior is being next in line, impatiently waiting for that time

Finally moving up to say, next I'll be a senior, and I can't wait for that day!

Having a massive load of homework, and knowing it's not just a quirk

WHO'S BEST?

Being social and popular requires having a lot of friends, and most everyone does have friends. But who is a best friend? A best friend is one who is understanding, or at least takes the time out to try. Best friends share endless memories that are never ever forgotten. You will always remember your best friend in the future, because love never fades.

Michele Renfro and Mimi Sayer are the reflection of "best friends."

DAY BY DAY . . .

Dear diary: I got to school late, and I had a big exam first period. I spent all night studying the wrong chapter! By the time I got to my next class, I realized that our huge reports were due — and I left mine at home. On top of all this, my best friend and I got into an argument, and I have no one to pal around with at lunch.
P.S. Being a junior sure isn't easy!

Steve Strapac took Mr. Sherwood's Vietnam War lecture a little too seriously.

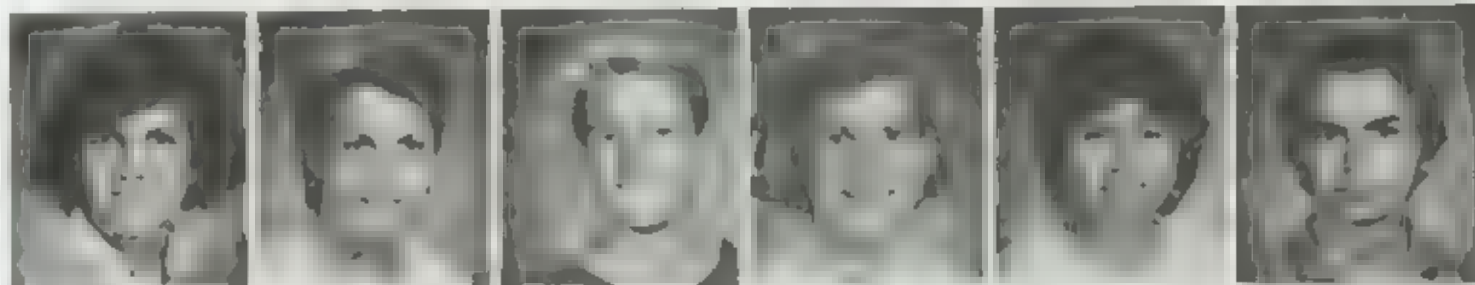

SOPHOMORES REACH FOR GREATER HEIGHTS

No pressure and no hassles is the best way to describe life as a sophomore. But three have submerged themselves in the organization and leadership of the class of '88. With beads of sweat dripping from their brows and ideas swirling in their minds, President Brent Hiltcher, Vice-President Jessie Kohler, and Secretary/Treasurer Marie Kawase raised the funds that set the wheels in motion for the sophomore class. After a successful class ring sale, they have gained the necessary experience to make them the leaders of tomorrow — of a whole new breed of upperclassmen.

Sophomore class officers Jessie Kohler, Vice-President, Brent Hiltcher, President, and Marie Kawase, Secretary/Treasurer enjoy their high achievements as 1988's officers.

"WHAT'S HAPPENIN'?"

When asking a sophomore "What does a sophomore do for fun?" one usually receives the reply, "Taking it easy," or "Hanging around." Hanging around where? In the sophomore bull ring, cafeteria area, or the major social events like Beachcomber's or Winter Formal are usually the places an upper (or lower) classman can catch them socializing

BEIN' FREE WHEELIN'

The new sophomore driver faces many advantages and disadvantages. Having your own "wheels" is comforting, knowing that you won't have to burn a ride to social events (especially if you're crammed in the back seat) and, alas, INDEPENDENCE. However, there are disadvantages. Of course, a job is needed to pay for gas and car repairs and time is required to pick up your sister and then the walk from the farm . . . It is at this moment that you ask yourself "Is the bus really that bad?"

SUPER SOPHOMORE

Gabriel Boettcher, nick-named "Rocky-Road," was named Super Sophomore of 1986. Gabe is a very active student at Fullerton. He is on the varsity water polo and soccer teams and a member of the Key and Ski Clubs. His best buddies are Josh Miller and John Glyard. As well as being an excellent dancer, he has appeared in commercials. Gabe was born and lived in Africa for eight years, yet he did not attend school till he was 8. Since he has left Africa, he has excelled in many fields and has enjoyed his high school years.

CATCH A WAVE!

Wake up at 4 a.m. Grab a fast glass of milk. Grab your gear and skateboard down to the nearest bus stop. Finally, out on the sand, the glistening waves call your name, as they roll towards the shore. The adrenaline starts pumping and away you go. WAIT! The fun ends as you realize you have been black balled. Then it's fun in the sun and beach blanket bingo time with Sido, Moondoggie, Gidget, and Kahuna.

"NO—NOT THAT!!"

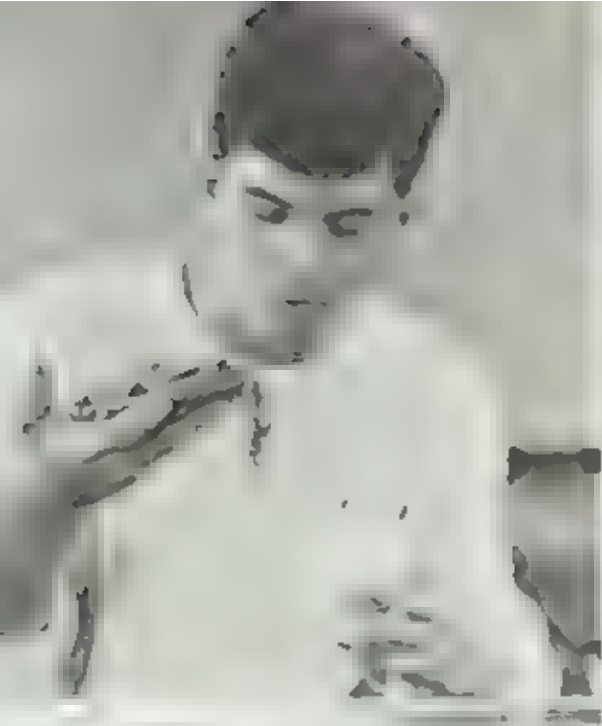

1. Stay away from orange fights, or you're juice
2. Don't even go near Senior Corner ... or it may be "can action" for you
3. Don't appear at upperclass parties; it may become a sticky situation
4. Don't park in the senior parking lot, unless you want your car towed

ADVICE TO ALL SOPHOMORES Take caution because if you mess up, it may do damage to your future school years at FUHS!!

Julie Giacapuzzi, Natalie Terry, and Karen Sullivan squirrel around at practice

Friendship is very special to Sharon Spade and Trisha Lent

THEY'VE DONUT AGAIN

Although the 1989 Freshman Class feel they really did not accomplish much, we do know that they tried their best. After all trying to compete with such highly educated upperclassmen is such a difficult task for such naive teenagers. This type of behaviour is a classic example of these young'uns at this state of life. Yet if they do follow these steps in the near future, they will for sure miss the step ladder of success. However, we cannot harp on these poor souls too much for they had an electrifying donut sale. These great donut and class leaders are Leslie Wallett, President, Alison Brown, Vice-President, and Laurel Munson, Secretary/Treasurer. Hang in there because there's always Winchell's to fall back on.

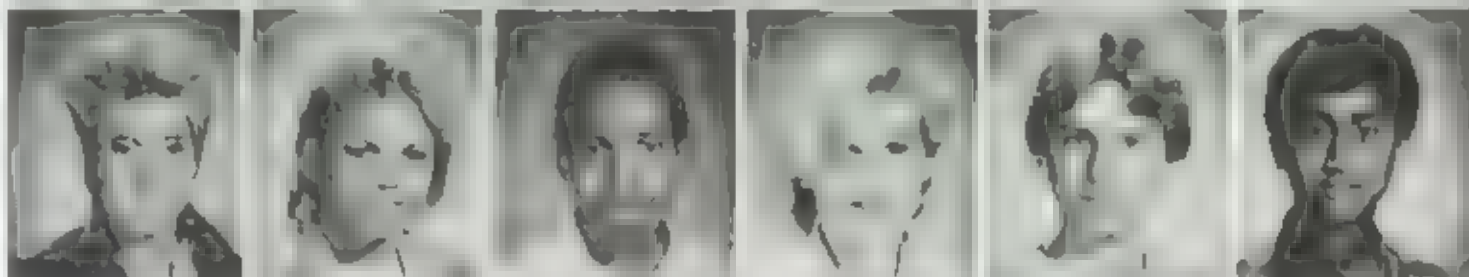

Class officers: President Leslie Wallett, Secretary Laurel Munson, Vice President Alison Brown.

Everybody knows how much freshman want to be friends with upperclassmen, especially seniors! Signs to look for are Lending of pens, pencils, papers, answers
Holding doors for them when they pass
Giving them "cuts" in line
Relinquishing their lockers to them
Clearing pathways for them
And ALWAYS saying "yes" to everything they ask
Keep up the good work Scrubs! It will pay in the end

A FIRST YEAR LOOK AT A FIRST DATE

Timid and shy,
Ready to die
Because of the guy
With the baby blue eyes

Starting to date
And beginning to relate
Now it's too late
To find a Homecoming date

Don't cry because you've missed the dance,
Winter Formal is here with another chance
The big night arrives with Quarterback Lance
But soon you find out that he lacks in romance

You finally meet your Mister Right
He asks you out for Saturday night
Totally jazzed, you say "Alright,"
But when he picks you up his car is a bike

As you pedal down the street,
Your neighbors stare and cheer "How sweet,"
Next thing you know you're on a yellow seat
McDonald's is the joint where he chose to eat

Dates like this will come and go
But there's one sure thing you'll always know
Freshman year was really rad,
Just 3 more years and you'll be a grad

TO BE A WINNING YEAR

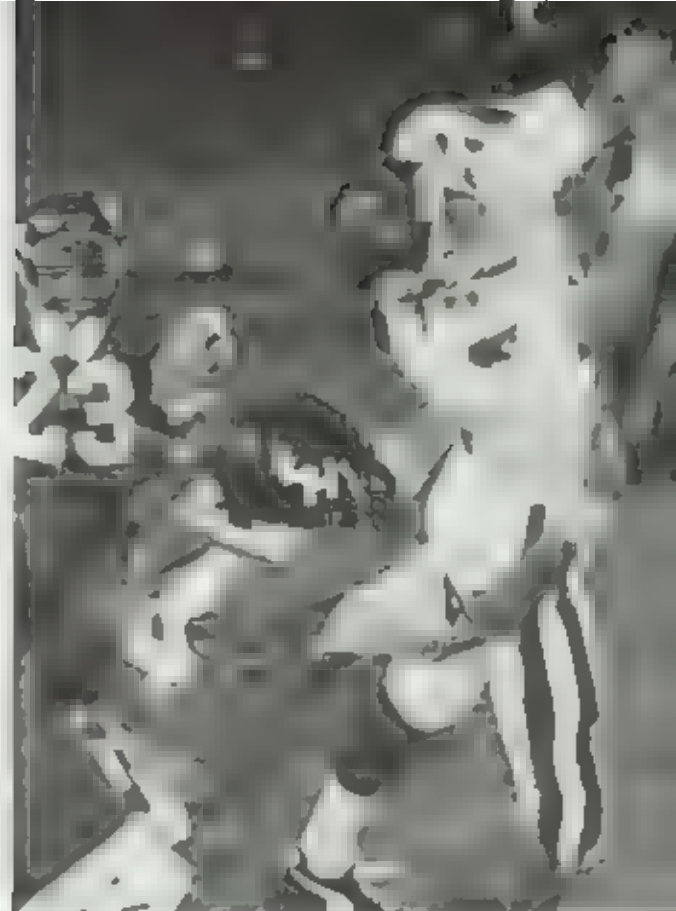

An offense full of finesse and an aggressive defense allowed the Fullerton Varsity football team to exceed everyone's expectations. To live up to their expectations the varsity team had to overcome many obstacles. The toughest obstacle was having twenty-two starters graduate last year which provided an inexperienced and young team. Fullerton, characterized as a young team, was emotionally up for some games while down for others. Their season record reflected a young team. Having come from mixed backgrounds and abilities, each squad member contributed in his own way. The team's motivations was exemplified by their squad leaders Mike Chacon, Curt Dagget, Garrick McNeely, Mick Minetti, Greg Putignani, Mike Willey, and Victor Williams. Tribe determination was prevalent in the Sweetwater, Norte Vista, and Sunny Hills games. When the tribe came face-to-face with Sweetwater—a team whose opponents hadn't scored many points against them—they succeeded in a half time score of 18-20. This proved to be quite an accomplishment for this year's squad. In the Norte Vista game, the offense and defense worked together effectively to create a Fullerton victory. The tribe's determination against their archrival Sunny Hills gave them a narrow victory. Some have called it a "building year" but they exceeded their expectations.

DESIRE DRIVES SOPHOMORES

The dominant quality of the 1985-86 sophomore football team was their desire to do their best. The team was a very dedicated group and the goals that they have set for themselves showed that they were serious in their objective. Their goals included playing 3 shutout games, winning the league, and improving every game. The sophomores had one shutout game to their credit and had a chance to win the league if Buena Park, an undefeated team, lost to Sonora. The team had a setback in their second game of the season — against Norte Vista. Otherwise, they have won all the games they were expected to and have improved after each game, achieving their third goal.

Aided by Coach Dave Torres, the team achieved a non-league record of 2 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. The team's drive brought them this far and since the players gave 110% at practice, they have a chance to overturn their present league record of 0 wins and 1 loss. The members of the team also went to summer camp with practices going continuously from 7:30 to 11:30 AM and from 2:15 to 5:30 and 6:00 PM when school started. The team's strong feelings allowed them to work together and their optimism produced a force to be reckoned with in all their games.

"THE WALL" HALTS OPPONENTS

Defense! Defense! Defense! These three words summed up Coach Bob Hill's feelings about his freshmen football team. "Defense is a strong point on any team," and under the guidance of Coaches Bob Hill and George Van Vliet it was built into a "wall" to be reckoned with. Although the defense was the binding link between the team members, victory could not be achieved without a potent offense. Thus, the team compiled a pre-league record of 4 wins and 1 loss.

The goal of our 1985-86 freshmen fighting force was victory in the Freeway League. To this point fundamentals have been stressed, for they are the building blocks of success. But the "scrubs" were unique for they have only recently come together as one unit. Unlike the JV and Varsity teams, the freshmen have come from a wide variety of backgrounds, but the team was a chance for the players to get to know one another.

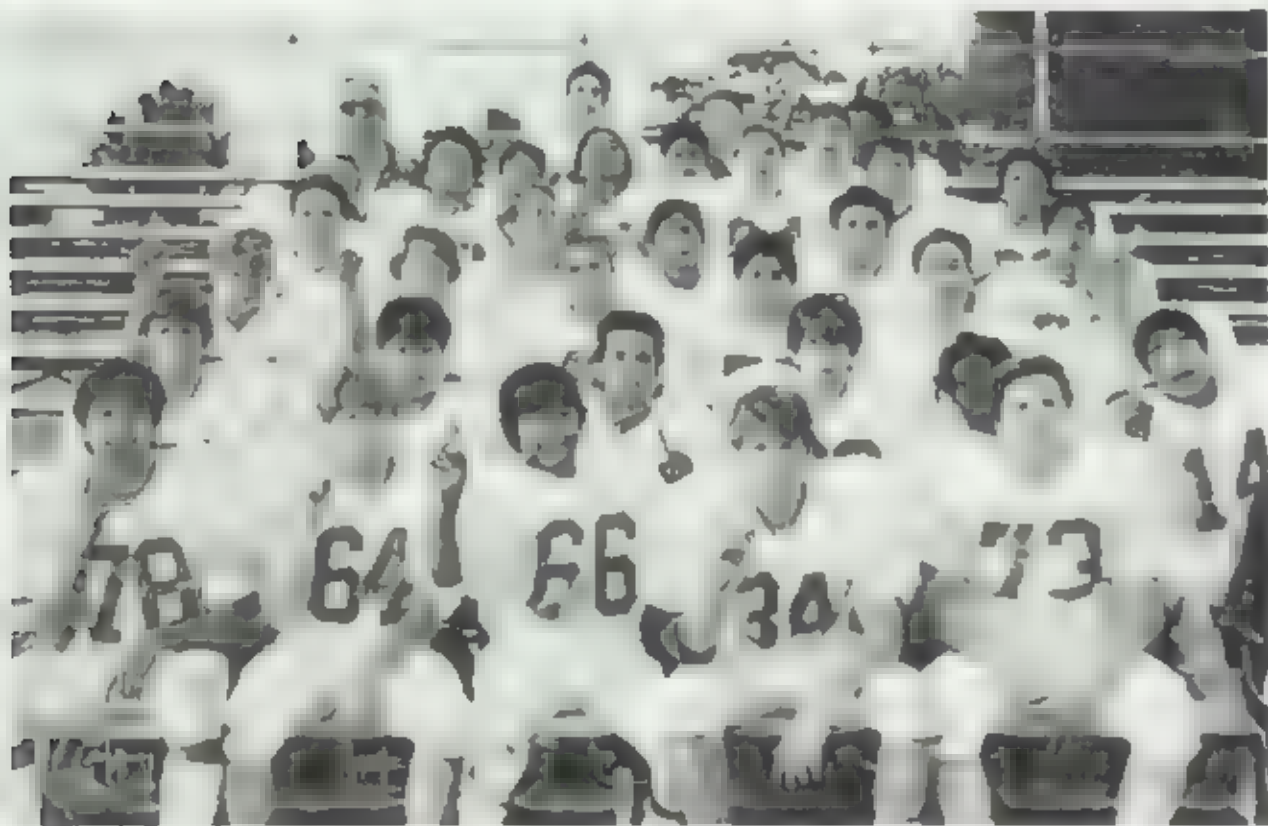

The coaches had high hopes for VICTORY. Though league success is unpredictable at the freshmen level, the entire squad was optimistic for they have proven themselves a formidable fighting force.

Coach George VanVliet and Umpire Doverspike observe the pregame warm-up with satisfaction.

STRUGGLES AGAINST SCHEDULE

Teamwork ... friendship ... effort. These adjectives describe this year's Varsity Water polo team. However, the team was a victim of past years' performances, whose schedules required playing California's top teams. With so many seniors graduating last year, Coach Rob Knight was left with a semi-inexperienced team at the varsity level. But despite their disadvantages the team played well. They can attribute their performance to the long hours spent every morning lifting weights and doing laps in the pool. The squad's team captain, Bob Petri, provided the extra motivation necessary to get through those long practices. Tom Lowery, the MVP, demonstrated his potential in the illustrious "holeman" position. The future looks bright for FUHS Polo, with the core of the varsity team returning next year.

JV POLO HANGS TOUGH

Few people realize the time and dedication playing water polo requires. This year's JV squad is learning what has created the winning tradition of Fullerton High water polo. Coach Correy Marvin, a recent FUHS graduate, instructs the team in the basics of water shots. Able JV'ers move up to the varsity level to try competition at a more advanced level.

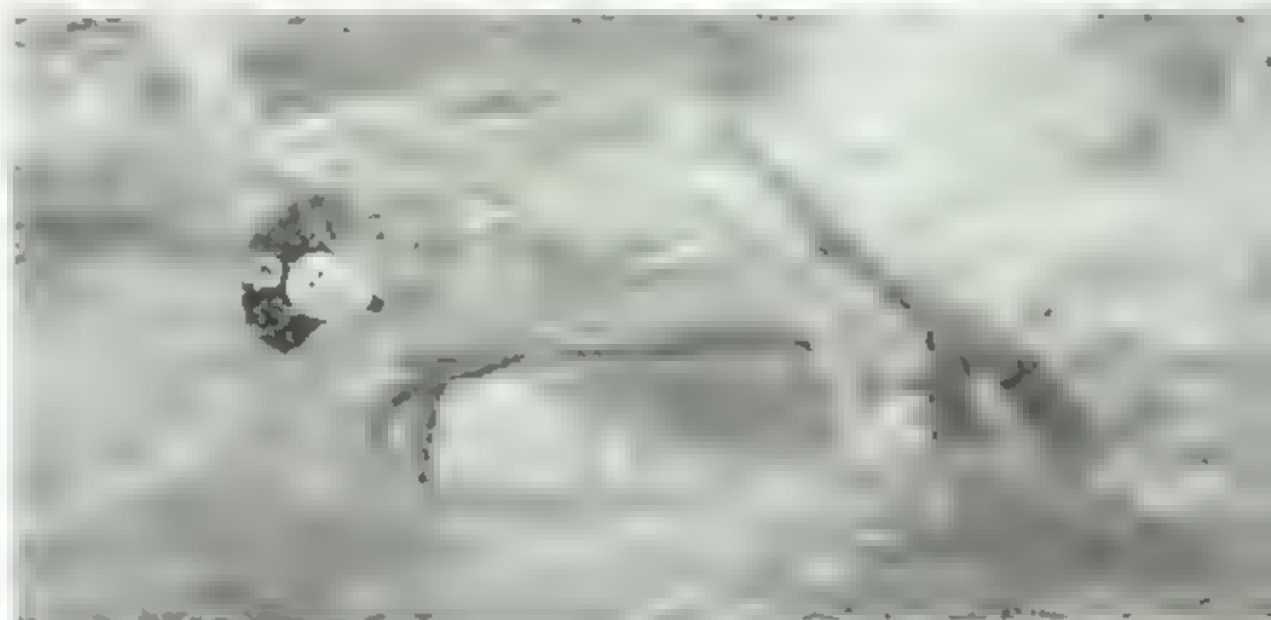

The squad is composed of hard-working friends pushing each other to greater levels of teamwork and competition. This friendship ties the team together. They work out every morning from 6am to 8am and then again in the evening from 2:15 to 5pm. JV water polo players are constantly being drilled in the basics. If "practice makes perfect," then next year's JV squad will be unbeatable. The future looks bright for the increasingly popular sport of H₂O polo at FUHS.

JV RAISES A RACKET

Upcoming and on their way to a most promising year in 1986 is the JV tennis team with star performances coming from Namchi Le, Mone Kawase and Lorraine Cullen. The team's strengths stemmed from their building of a family unit where encouragement and friendship are strong. All the players were new. Lack of experience didn't deprive them of spirit as they continued to dedicate their valuable time to more practices, more drills and more lessons.

The team was striving for the winning goal on the varsity level as they were looking forward to playing against competitive teams.

RACKETS TO THE TOP

Success - the most ample description of the varsity tennis team. "This team worked well together like a family, very close-knit," commented Coach Cronin. The main characteristic that tied the team together was friendship. The players have been friends with one another since early childhood. They encouraged one another and strived for the winning goal. They closed the season with twenty wins and three losses. The losses were to three teams, two of which participated in CIF competition. Even so, they weren't discouraged as they continued to dedicate their time to master new techniques for challenging tough teams. According to Coach Cronin, the most valuable players are the three singles - Kristen Byrne, Kathy Byrne, and Julie Ramsay.

When asked what was the highlight of the season, Kirsten Byrne replied, "Working hard as a team really paid off the moment we found out we were on our way to CIF." Another comment came from the double pair, Eileen Kinney and Cane Thomas, "By building a strong team since freshman year and improving each season, we really grew together to make our senior year the best ever!"

TAKES TO THE HILLS

The Boys Varsity Cross-Country team kicked off its season with a week-long summer camp in Yosemite. With only two seniors, Craig Burnard and Steve Bush, on the Varsity squad, Coach Erskin knew this would be a building year. Burnard provided the motivation while Bush set a winning example for all to follow. With the help of the other Varsity runners, Bastian Schoell and Jorge Diaz in particular, "they turned a tradition of losing into a tradition of winning," remarked Erskin. Coach Erskin expects the Varsity team will make it to C.I.F. this year.

In all, the varsity team was a close-knit group of runners striving for success, pushing each other to higher and higher levels of expectation.

Under the direction of the new assistant coach, Beth Terrel, the Girls Varsity Cross-Country team once again went to C.I.F. The young team's top performers were Linda Hurtado, Brenda Terry, Roma Franzia, and Erin Bialouris, with newcomers Heidi Brehm and Denise Morones not far behind. With no graduating seniors, the team plans to be even stronger next year.

FROSH-SOPH RUNS 'EM DOWN

The Frosh-Soph Boys Cross-Country team was a small, potent squad. Coach Erskin was quick to recognize the potential they will have when they become seniors. Erskin's goal was to create a small squad that would work together efficiently. By having the squad run together, they were able to help improve each other's performance. Outstanding freshman performers Mike Battiste and Troy Manzer combined with experienced sophomores, Bill Hiltcher and Phong Le, to create a winning team. Coach Erskin expects great things from them in the future.

JV SPIKERS STICK TOGETHER

The Junior Varsity volleyball team was a young one. It was packed mostly with freshmen. Although the team didn't have a victorious season, the players played hard and stuck together as one big family. Each team member devoted her time and energy toward grueling practices to develop and perfect new skills as well as old ones. The members were very responsible as they took the blame when defeated and carried all the pressure on their shoulders as they pushed toward the ultimate goal: winning. Young talented players, such as Veronica Govea, Sharon Spadt, and Stacey Nunley, are determined to carry these solid experiences on to the varsity level.

SWATS AT OPPONENTS

The varsity volleyball team started with summer practice while everyone else was at the beach enjoying the warm sun and great waves. In spite of their strenuous efforts, they didn't come out on top. However, in every game they showed strong determination and confidence. The team was excellent in pre-league competition, but struggled in league with a record of ten wins and fifteen losses. The discouragement didn't hold them back, as they continued to work hard and improve their techniques in serving, passing, developing court senses, and being consistent. Nor could defeat dampen their spirit of cooperation—the players supported one another and at the same time shared each other's joys and sadness, whether in victory or defeat. The hard work, the new experiences, and most of all the fun—produced a comfortable atmosphere among the team members.

The team's most prominent and consistent players, according to Coach Cathy Gray, were Noel Heusser, Janene Allen, and Vicki Silva. Even though the players gave their best, "they never take any game for granted," commented Gray.

UP THE SCOREBOARD

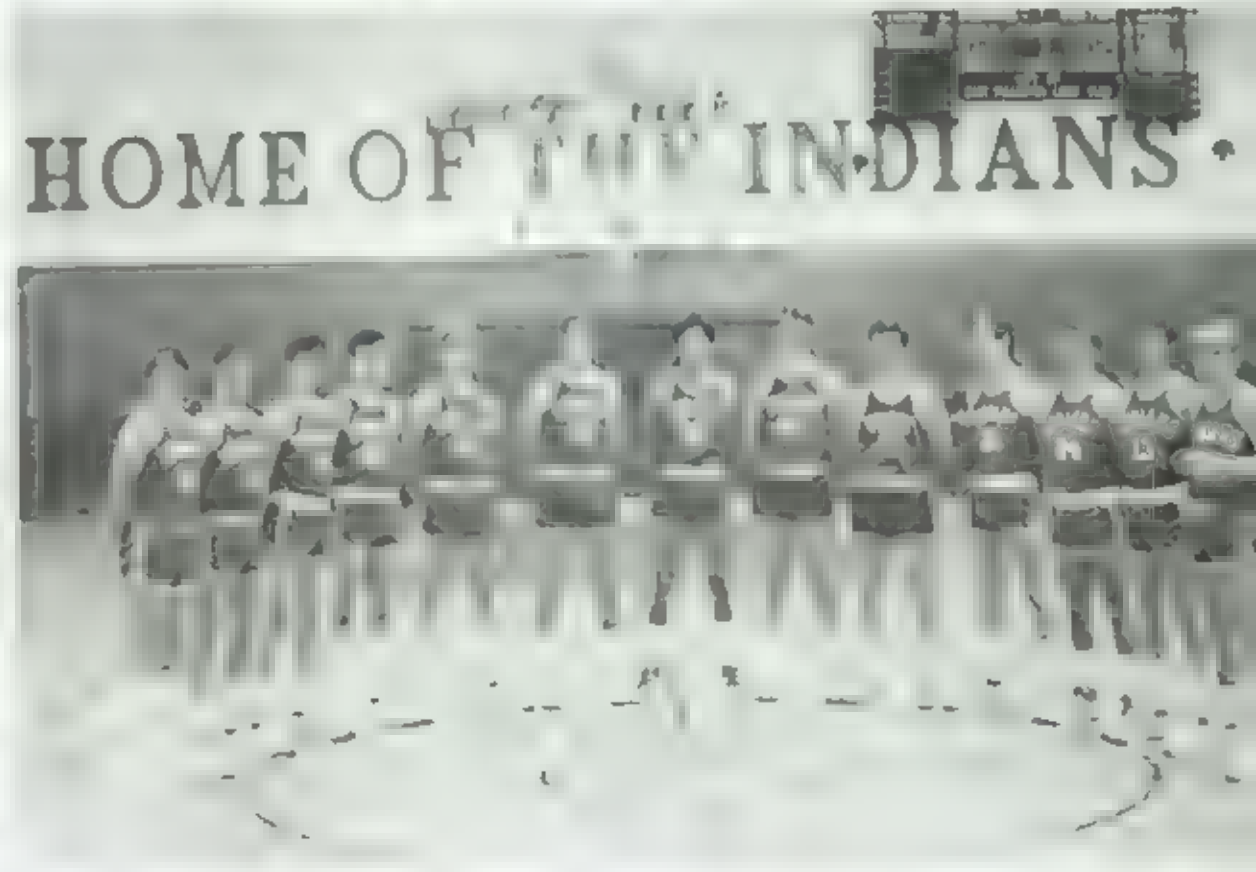

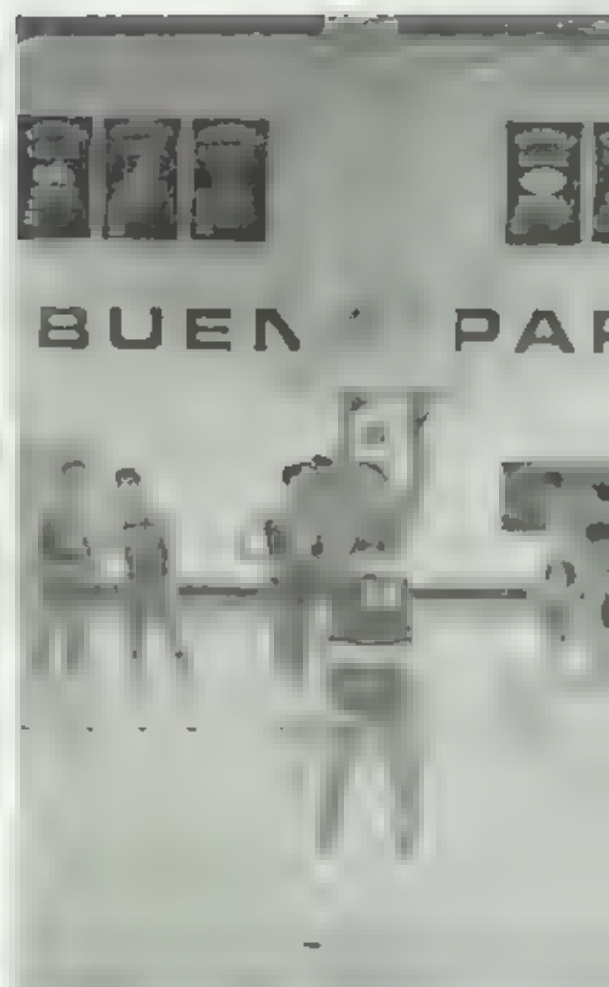

After a slow start, Varsity Basketball came on strong and made a run for the league championship. Troy and Buena Park were the teams to beat to capture the title. The key factors to a successful season were to play smart, to play as a team and to play with intensity. Senior forward Kirk Lentz felt the team would be able to accomplish these goals. He hoped they would place high in league and do well in CIF playoffs. The players were confident, but knew it was a matter of using their abilities to the fullest. Returning starters Chris Zerga and Ralph Talant, MVP, were major forces for the team.

JV FINISHES HIGH

The J.V. basketball team had a good season this year. Coaches Steve Singer and Steve Pichel have the Indians performing with style. The squad doesn't have much size, so they rely on their aggressive defense to upset opponents defense and force them to make mistakes. The Indians started off well, and should finish at or near the top of league. J.V. player David Sawyer will hopefully lead FUHS to a successful season this year.

Last year the present members of the Fresh-Soph Basketball Team were cross-town Junior High rivals. This year they have worked and banded together to create a dynamic Fresh-Soph squad. With the direction of coaches Jeff Fauver and Matt Suttle, the squad learned the basics of highly competitive basketball in preparation for a promising varsity career. The team plans to better last year's record of 13 wins and 8 losses by a substantial margin. The team, mostly freshmen, consists of newly acquainted friends working together towards a common goal — a winning season. The horizons are bright for the energetic and competitive Fresh-Soph squad.

DUNK THEIR FOES

After four of the starters had graduated in 1985, the 1986 Girls' Varsity Basketball team, led by Coach Vernie Ford, would have been expected to be severely crippled, but that was not the case. If anything, this team was stronger than that of the previous year. Their strength came from within as each member strived to support each other. Whether the players were in the ball game or sat on the bench, the combination of teamwork and team support from each of the players was one of the most valuable components of this year's team.

Their outstanding success as a team was the reflection of the strength of its individual players like Sabrina Welch and Heidi Shikuma on the offensive and defensive boards and Janene Allen on defense. The team also had excellent guards like Trisha Lent and aggressive players like Noelle Heusser. The team compiled an impressive pre-season record of 7 wins and 4 losses by playing well against such powerful teams as El Dorado, Valencia, La Mirada, and Orange. Coach Ford also added that the girls played "impressive and exciting games" and had been "a joy to work with." With all the successes of this past season, Coach Ford had reason to be pleased with the team.

JV GIRLS TOP OPPONENTS

Fundamentals are essential to every sport. For the girls' basketball program, the JV team is where the players strive to improve them. The 1986 Girls' Junior Varsity team's primary objective was to concentrate on improving their fast-break ability and on moving the ball. A record of 4 wins and 1 loss in preseason (5 wins and 4 losses including tournament competition) reflected their success. Fundamentals were not the only area that the players sought to improve, however. Their coach, Kathy Gray, commended the team's ability to work together by saying, "They worked strongly as a unit." Thus, teamwork and a good grasp of the fundamentals made for quite a successful season.

JV PINS OPPONENTS

Doing things better than last year — that has been the goal behind the Junior Varsity Wrestling team. With two new coaches, Dan Coates and Chris Butler at the helm, the team conquered that goal early in the season.

Coaches Coates and Butler both participated in college wrestling, setting a good example for the team members. They have had the team concentrate mainly on basics because the basics must be mastered before more elaborate moves such as switch, leg ride, and slice can be attempted. The team has also developed mental as well as physical toughness, because wrestling is a sport that demands both. Coach Coates also mentioned that he desired "each guy to go out and wrestle his hardest, win or lose, and to do the things they have been taught." The coaches, therefore, have stressed improvement rather than winning and since the team consisted of hardworkers the team had a good pre-season record of 5 wins and 1 loss. Coach Coates commented, "They are beginning to see that the moves that I'm teaching them are working."

FOR FUTURE

There were many factors that prevented a wrestling team victory. The major factor was the lack of preparation because of a lack of time. The team went without a coach through the summer and fall before Dan Coates and Chris Butler entered the scene in October. Since the season began in November, the coaches were unable to condition the athletes in time, and the players were unable to adapt to a new style of coaching.

With a tremendous burden on their shoulders, the two coaches proceeded to bring their wrestlers back into shape. The basics were drilled instead of the fancy, elaborate moves because Coach Coates commented, "Fancy moves don't win matches, basic moves do." The athletes went through rigorous conditioning and while most would have quit, they "stuck it out." All things considered, the FUHS team was "better than other first year teams," said Coach Coates.

The team accomplished the goal that they had set for the season. The '85 team had 6 wins and 14 losses; the '86 team had 10 wins and 10 losses. And their team also earned a respect for themselves and the sport of wrestling.

ATTACK CIF

A talented Boys Soccer team demonstrated what it takes to go to C.I.F. The Varsity team, for the first time in 5 years, made it to the second round of C.I.F. They traveled all the way out to El Centro — near the border of California and Arizona. Talented seniors include Raul Villegas, Josh Miller, Shane Allen, Jim Biardi and Victor Meneses. The team shared some memorable moments. Gabe "the Animal" Boettcher talks tough and cheek with the refs. "Bandana-manial" was the word soccer player Josh Miller used to describe this season. The team played well under the new direction of coach Richard Roth. He taught the team how to use their individual talents towards a common "goal." They were a tight group of friends that played together and parted together. Their close friendship allowed them to anticipate each other's moves. The 85-86 squad continued the team's winning legacy. Each soccer season FUHS gets better — imagine next year

JV TAKES THE FIELD BY STORM

The Junior Varsity Boys soccer team played well under the guidance of former FHS soccer player, now coach, Hugo Guzman. The team refined the basics with the hope of moving up to the Varsity level of competition. The team was comprised of freshman all the way up to juniors. This diversity of experience allowed the team to produce a favorable season. The Palomino tradition of soccer players continues with the introduction of James Palomino. He plans to play on the Varsity level next year as a Sophomore. Freshman blood, such as Chad Ledbetter, provided speed on the playing field. With the absence of a Fresh-Soph team, membership to the JV team was considered hard to come by. The team was big and Hugo tried to give each player enough playing time. With the high quality of talent on the J.V. team this year, next year's Varsity team should be truly outstanding.

JV TOUGHENS UP

Heading into the season with a bright outlook, the Junior Varsity girls soccer team lived up to their potential. Under a new coach and with strong talent from new players, the team put up stiff competition. Surprisingly, the team came out of pre-season with a 3-1 record, and finished league with a 3-6-1 record. The girls did much better than their record indicated though, as several of their losses were by only one goal. With such tough experience, players such as Jill Rozboril and Susan Watt will have a head start on next year's varsity squad.

BATTLES THROUGH LEAGUE

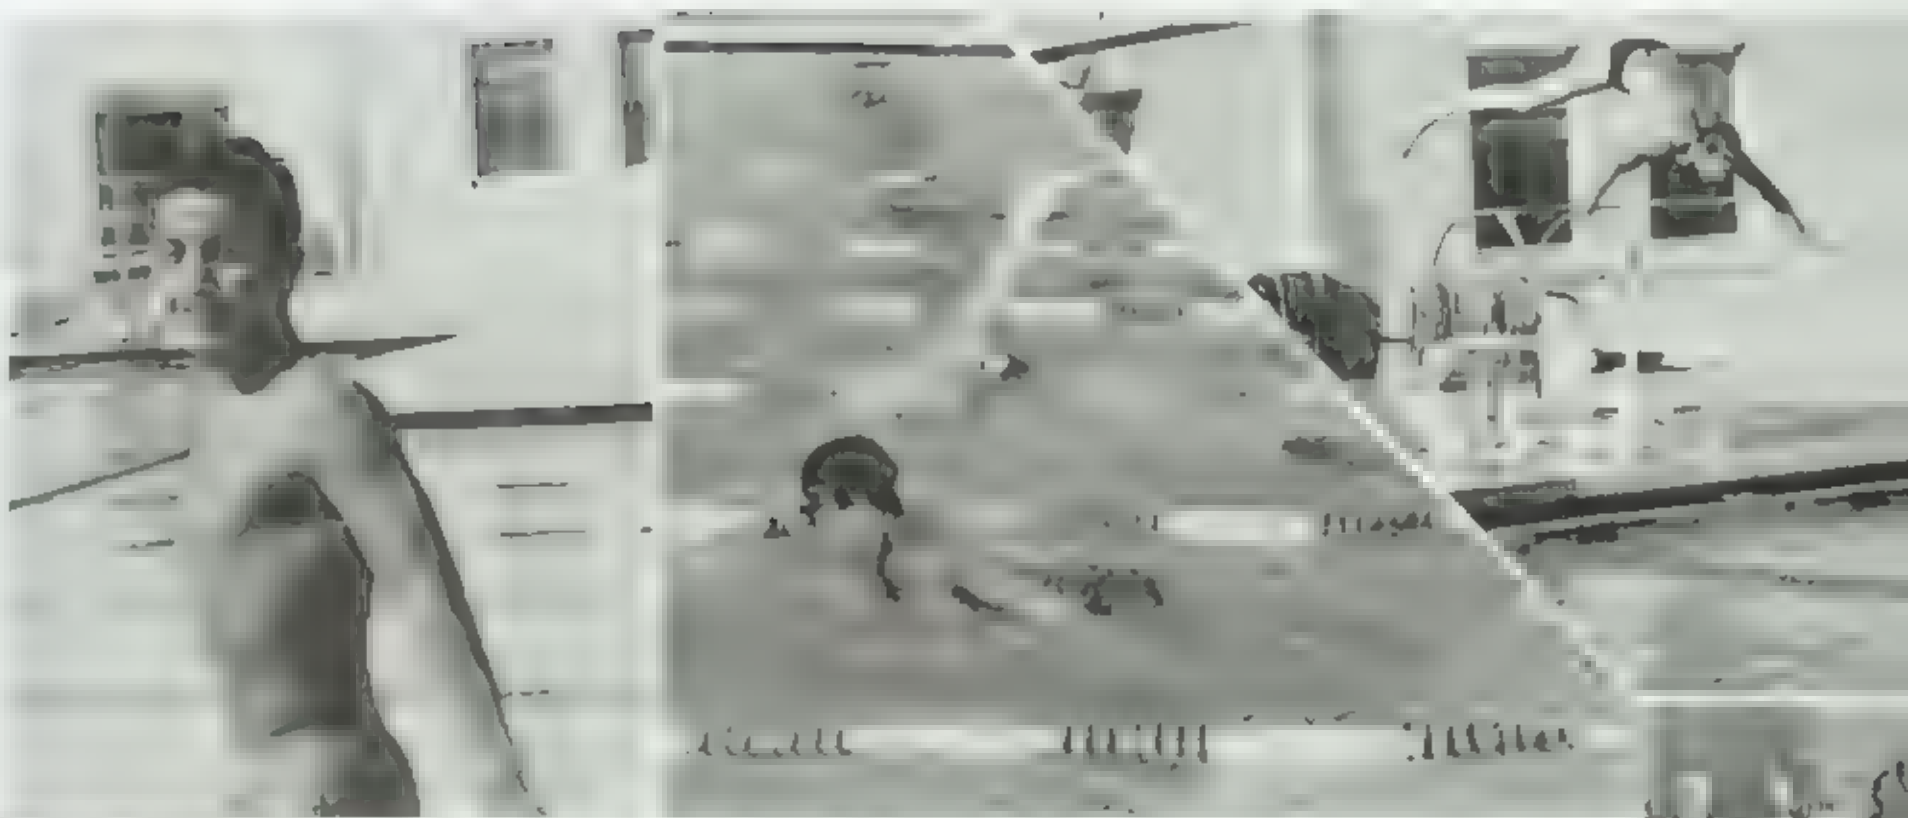

The girl's varsity soccer team didn't win as many games as they had hoped for, but each player showed a lot of cohesive teamwork. In the games they won, the team showed their opponents they still can play soccer with the best and win. Each player contributed her individual skills and much sportsmanship to the game and made it an enjoyable season for FHS. Such talented players and teamwork gave Fullerton the reputation of a team that doesn't give up without a fight. They commanded respect from their opponents and showed them what soccer is really about. Even though they didn't make CIF, they knew they gave their best effort, and were proud of it.

INTO A NEW YEAR

Legs are tense, heart starts pounding faster and faster, an intense stare at the valley of shimmer, the "BANG" "SPLASH" the race is on

The boys varsity swim team's season had started strongly with many victories. The trend was carried throughout the year. Many of the swimmers, surprisingly, were not seniors. Even though the boys were young, they upheld the competitive spirit of FUHS. The basic goal for the team was for each swimmer to time their personnel best at the league meet. Coach Rob Knight named Bram Tester, a junior, the most valuable player. Other members that demonstrated excellence were Tom Lowry, Rick Freyre, Scott Devanold, and David Adams.

This team of athletes practiced every school day, rain or shine. Their training included the execution of several laps against the time clock. The strong efforts of all the members of the team paid off

JV DRIES UP THE COMPETITION

Young bodies toned up during intense training afterschool from 4:00 to 6:00, in addition to early morning workout. Little geysers shot up into the air when the boys took their laps in the pool. Deep concentration could be seen on everyone's face, yet smiles were abundant when practice ended.

Coach Rob Knight said that the team had an outside chance to win the league "if everyone stays healthy." THEIR COMPETITORS

Although anticipating a rough season because of injuries, Varsity Boys tennis, led by Coach Van Vliet, started their season with a win, and kept on striving for the gold. With such determination, they hope to have individuals participating in C.I.F. this year. One of their most valuable players was Bob Carlton, defending league champion. The team differed from previous years because most of the players were younger and the team was without some players due to injuries. The doubles and singles Varsity teams illustrated strong leadership and proved better than the overall performance of the Varsity teams. The team looks forward to a remarkable season, with a preseason of 8 wins and 1 loss.

The 1986 Junior Varsity team started the season with much determination and emerged victorious. An extremely experienced team of individuals, they hope to go on to league championships and surpass their competitors. The doubles did exceedingly well in their matches. Although the Frosh-Soph team is not official, their practice matches between the team players showed great promise for future games. One of the star players, Mark Carlton, demonstrated many of the strong skills that a varsity team member would use in a tough match against Sunny Hills. Other outstanding players include Jon Penrod and Matt Graham. Coach Van Vliet is very confident that many of the team members will go on to the JV team with the strong strategic skills and ideas they have obtained on the Frosh-Soph team.

BE TORRES' BEST

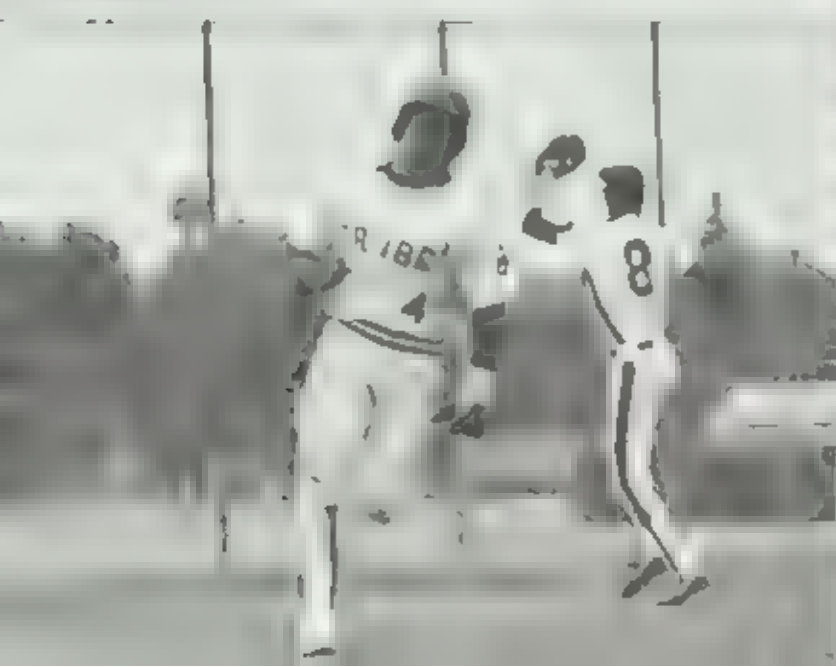

Upon entering his fourth season with the FUHS baseball team, Coach Dave Torres remarked that the 1986 team was the best he had seen thus far. The team consisted of an outstanding outfield, a tight infield, and a pitching staff that showed promise of leading the team to win the league. Their most valuable asset however, was their batting. With everything at their command, the team was able to produce a 2 and 1 record in preseason action.

This team was characterized with a lot of experience. The team members were all juniors and seniors and they knew each other well to bring out the best in each other. Their team effort was also commendable because they never quit giving their best when they were down, as in their second game against Garden Grove, 7-3. They were able, however, to raise the score to 7-6 by the end of the game — a respectable defeat.

The FUHS baseball team had always managed to be one of the top teams in their league, but in recent years, the team had suffered a setback and were unable to maintain it. Coach Torres, however, was confident that this varsity team, under his guidance and with the help of Assistant Coach Ed Hart, would recover their original position as one of the best.

JV FIGHTS THE FIELD

The JV baseball team's road to success was hampered by many stones and pitfalls along the way. Their most difficult obstacle chanced to be the unconquerable — the natural elements. But the fact that they often did not have a decent field on which to practice did not aid their cause — to win the league. However, even without the regular practices, the team was able to develop a strong pitching staff.

The hardworking sophomores and freshmen on the JV team, aided by Coach Greg Schammel, strove to improve in all aspects of their game. They worked on batting and other techniques, but their main concentration was on running. The effort involved in mastering these skills had its reward: By improving in all the basic areas in which the sport demanded, the team assured themselves success.

JUNIOR SOFTBALLERS COME ON STRONG

Although the Junior Varsity Softball team had a slow start, its late season status was very strong. The team was led by Jackie Arnold and Diana Fern as captains, with star performances by Catherine Blake, pitcher, and Sharon Spadt, batter and shortstop. The team started fresh with the new coach, Coach Schofield, and inexperienced freshman players, however, the players worked hard and practiced long hours to improve the team's strength. With these two skills combined, the team drove toward winning in league. According to Coach Schofield, "discipline held the team together as a whole." The players worked hard for one another and also enjoyed each other's company. With great strength and discipline, the girls were rewarded with a triumphant season!

SLUG IT OUT

It was that time of the year again—the time of hot weather and exciting softball action at FUHS. Our Varsity Softball team emerged with a strong background. The team was very young in contrast to its name. The team suffered a loss of three graduated varsity girls and three who didn't come out for the team. Still, the squad maintained a compelling strength against other competitive teams. The girls were very good friends, and no conflicting attitudes were exerted among the players which could alter the team's relationship in unity. The spirit was great in the team with an extra hand from a cheerleading candidate Laura Cooper. Other superstar personnel included Cindy Michik, the number one and strongest pitcher; Casey Donoghue, shortstop, and Noelle Heusser as catcher.

The team's desire to win every game, to make plays, to get hits, and to stay composed under pressure boosted its vitality. Every girl was looking forward to a jubilant year and chance to play in CIF. "If we all keep our heads in the games, and our bats stay strong, we should be the number one in league and a strong contender in CIF," said Noelle.

The Fullerton Fresh-Soph. track team comprises the bulk of the entire Fullerton track program. Coaches Bob Hill and Ted Erskin believe these tyros will create an awesome Varsity team within a couple of years. Outstanding newcomers to the squad are Kent Ritter, Brian Borowski, Mike Batiste, Eric Campos, and Mike Rhodes. Two-year veterans include Frank Wightman, Phong Doan, Jean Bernstein, John Vallin and many others. With the number running building each year, it is hard to say what these talented guys can do in a couple of years. The coaching staff didn't let these guys have it easy either. They have the same rigorous workout schedule as the Varsity team. They also learned the mental toughness necessary to do well in Varsity Track. Their performance reflects their winning attitude and their desire to push themselves to the limit. In all, the team has maintained a winning record and has strong hopes of taking the league title.

GIRLS VARSITY SPRINTS TO VICTORY

The Girls Varsity Track team started this year under the direction of a new coach, Julie Ortmann. Kathy, being a former track star herself, easily related to the girls and provided the necessary guidance and motivation. The girl's all-star performer was Brenda Terry. She was almost invincible in the girls mile and two-mile; she would outdistance her opponents by nearly half of a lap. The girls team was small but powerful. Next year, the team hopes to attract more girl members — lessening the load on everyone. The strength of the team was in the youth of its runners. As the team gains more and more experience and also players, its record will improve substantially. For a first-year coach and a young team, the girls performed exceptionally well.

TOUGH LEAGUE

With over seventy-five guys registered for track, coaches Ted Erskin and Bob Hill knew this would be a competitive year. The team has done well, despite its record against its opponents. The Freeway League is presently the toughest league in the state. Fullerton is evenly matched talent-wise with Troy, Sonora, Buena Park and Sunny Hills. This provides a very competitive league in which any one of these teams could challenge La Habra for the title. Outstanding seniors are Iggy Alava, Shane Allen, Jim Biardi, Craig Burnard, Steve Bush, Mike Ojeda, and Mike Perez. These seven seniors combined with the talents of Bastian Schoell, Ted Barber, George Diaz, Pete Bach, and Zach Fields have made Fullerton highly competitive in the Freeway League. All the seniors better their P.R.'s in their respective events. With an influx of freshman and sophomore talents the future is very bright for Boys' Varsity Track.

ON THE BIRDIE

Badminton is not a very well-known sport at FUHS. Thus, the team couldn't be deprived of recognition. The team was co-ed with both the Varsity and JV teams boys and girls. Even though the team had lost a lot of valuable players, its winning confidence was built upon the Boys' Varsity team. However, the admittance of new frosh and soph players gave the team the power to hold on against other competitive teams, except for Sunny Hills and Buena Park. Still, the players set high expectations for themselves - a chance to compete in CIF individually and to come in third place.

The key quality for such a strong team was the family spirit within the team members. The members were very supportive of one another and worked very hard. The desire to be a team member and to compete, strengthened the team's strong tie. "I think our strongest point in the team is the unity among the team members," commented Mariam Mirgoli. With the guidance from Coach Robertson and the two energetic team captains, Thomas Sudibjo and Mariam Mirgoli, the team dwelled on quickness on courts, power, and consistency. Everyone looked forward to a season of exciting fun.

HERE WE GO GO GO
AGAIN

WAY TO GO MASCOTS!!!

When you think of the word mascot you probably think of a shorter than average person wearing a furry oversized suit with a size 28 foot. Yet this is not the case with our mascots. Leslie Trasport, Brenda Watkins and Shane Allen are Fullerton's 1986 mascots. It is the mascots' job to be rowdy and to get the crowd enthusiastic. As all of the students at Fullerton saw, this trio had no problem staying spirited at pep rallies, football games, and anything else they were asked to do. The mascots were proud to represent the school in a different way than the cheerleaders. Our mascots all practiced about three hours a week at night perfecting their cheers. They painted signs and practiced with the cheerleaders for the pep rallies on Fridays. There are some benefits to being a mascot, as Trasport points out, "Mascots aren't expected to be precise like cheerleaders. We run around, act wild and crazy, and in general are more like comedians." Two traditions were again kept alive this year. First, we had two Indian Maidens, which started last year, and second, our Willie Ugh was a water polo player — a tradition started ten years ago and that has been kept eight of those ten years. WAY TO GO, MASCOTS!!

PEP RALLIES SPAN HAWAII TO MEXICO

Time: 12:30 Place: Academic Court Event: Pep Rally

Pep Rallies started off with a bang! Each Friday FUHS Indians had rallies to fire up the student body. Everyone got rowdy and radical. Rallies were centered around themes, different from any other year. This new idea brought about a unique enthusiasm to Indian Territory.

Aloha! This word not only welcomed the "scrubs" to FUHS, but also represented our first pep rally of 85-86. Hawaiian girls and surfer guys were seen all over campus on that special Friday. A pineapple-throwing contest, a "wipe-out" dance, and a hula contest were among the fun activities many people were involved in.

The Fiesta rally proved who could eat a burrito the fastest. It also pushed our spirit to the limit with a pinata bash. Indians left the pep rally humming the tune "Tequila."

Red men invaded FUHS during the Indian pep rally. After the mighty water polo team was introduced, classes competed in licorice-tossing, gum-chewing game. The drill team also performed a dazzling routine to "My Heart Goes Bang."

The Spirit Stick was another new idea brought to life at FUHS pep rallies. It was given each week to the rowdiest, enthusiastic, most spirited class. Every pep rally was a great success and obviously led in the quest for Indian spirit.

1985-86 SONG LEADERS

This Song Leaders started the year off on a great note! At USA Camp in Santa Barbara, the theme was "Take the Lead" and Song did just that by coming home with a split stick and superior ribbons. Song busily prepared routines for Freshman Orientation and the Homecoming Assembly. Song's impressive split shone at pep rallies and at games where they could be seen energetically pumping up the mighty Indians.

1985-86 YELL LEADERS

United as friends, united in school spirit, symbolized Yell Squad. Sweat began to pour early in the summer in preparation for JHS Camp in Santa Barbara where Yell proudly earned six perfect ribbons. They put their experience to the test as they cheered enthusiastically at pep rallies and sports. Thanks to their dedication and gentle spirit, Yell got students fired up and behind the Indians 400 percent!

1985-86 Short Flags Squad. They were united together in both friendship and dedication.

While preparing for USA Camp the girls got to really know each other and strengthen their friendships. The Short Flag Squad worked well together, and their twirling talent was evident at pep rallies, games, and assemblies. Short Flags were flying high all year, and their expertise was superb.

JV CHEER

Junior Varsity cheer was definitely a team of high spirited friends. They worked together to accomplish their tasks with spirit and precision. Gina Fernandes, as head of the JV squad, did a great job in communicating with the other five girls. She organized, established a good rapport, and really got along well with the rest of the squad.

They practiced three times a week from seven until eight o'clock in the morning, and they performed at water polo games, basketball games, baseball games, and special events such as Homecoming and varsity football games.

They stuck together by doing other things besides cheering and pep rallies too. They helped with sign painting, decorated the locker rooms, went to squad dinners, and of course went shopping for new outfits together. The girls said they were brought closer together, and they acted as an enthusiastic group of juniors dedicated and proud to represent the Fullerton High School Indians.

JV Yell shows their smiles and their legs for the camera.

Roma Franzia doesn't need a megaphone for the crowd to hear her.

This year's Frosh-Soph cheerleaders demonstrated their enthusiasm in part by supporting the frosh-soph sports — especially football. And they also helped varsity paint signs and perform in pep rallies.

"We had a great time participating in all of the events, especially Homecoming," said Kim Hespe.

Wasn't it hard trying to communicate in such a large squad?

"No, not really," commented Nancy Voisan, who is head of the squad. "We're all friends and we all get along great!"

Frosh-Soph all so displayed excellent spirit at the USA Cheerleading Camp held at the University of California in Santa Barbara. The squad earned a superior rating for a routine they had devised. Also, by performing superbly in classes, Frosh-Soph took home a trophy — the only squad to do so. These eight sophomores should be congratulated for an outstanding year. Even though they were all sophomores, they also represented the Freshmen class in the pep rallies and at all the games.

FROSH-SOPH CHEER

Frosh-Soph takes the lead. Tricia Lent, Leslie Brunner, Shannon Stevenson, Nancy Voisan, Kristen Peterson, Kim Hespe, Helen Eun, and Cecilia Chavira.

PEP SQUAD

BAND STRUTS OUT

Dedication, determination, perfection and teamwork describe the 85-86 Indian Marching Band. Each week brought a half-time show performance that Band executed with pizzazz and style.

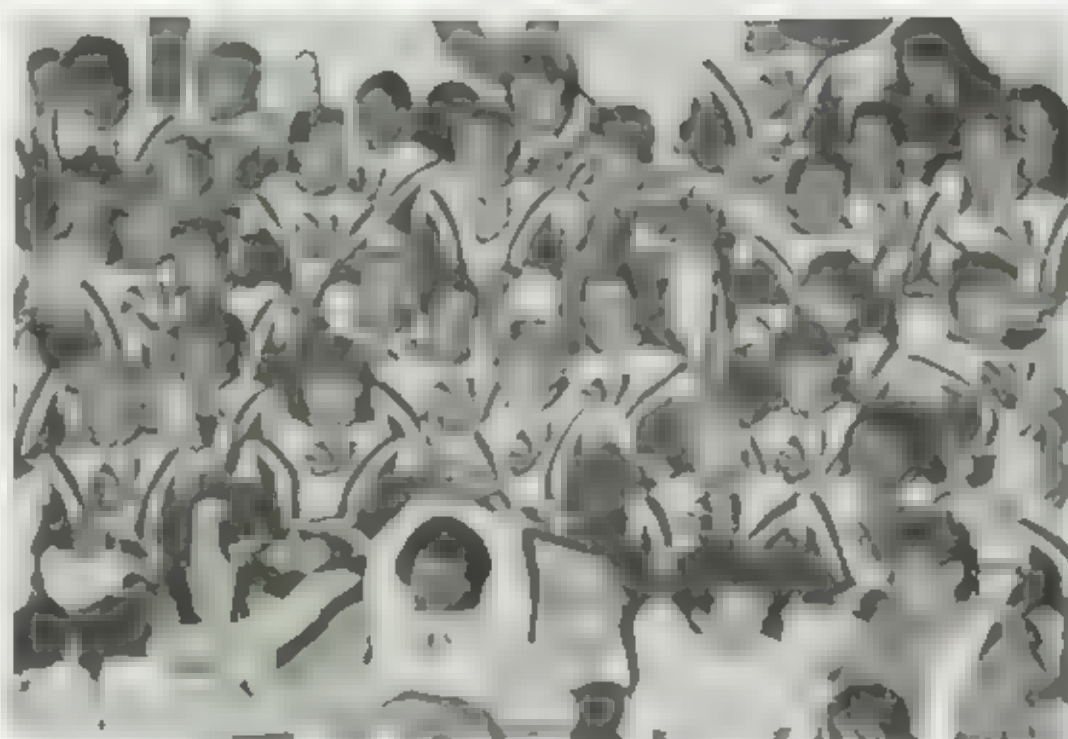

In order to make every show a success, each member was very dedicated. Not everyone can be up at 7:00 a.m. blaring a horn or tooting a flute! But the FUHS Marching Band was an exception. Every morning band was out on the field practicing hard for their Friday evening performances.

Band was more willing than ever to be extraordinary. Under the direction of drum major, Mike Lansford, and director, Greg Haake, each member did his part in adding to the achievement of the half-time show. Band's success was apparent when they captured second place in the La Habra Field Show Competition.

Perfection was what it took to synchronize the tunes to the Fight Song and the Alma Mater. Band practiced every note until the Fullerton students were proud to hear them perform.

And lastly, Band has truly worked together as a team. They have been rowdy together, practiced together, performed together, and above all have stood proud together.

TALL FLAGS FLY HIGH

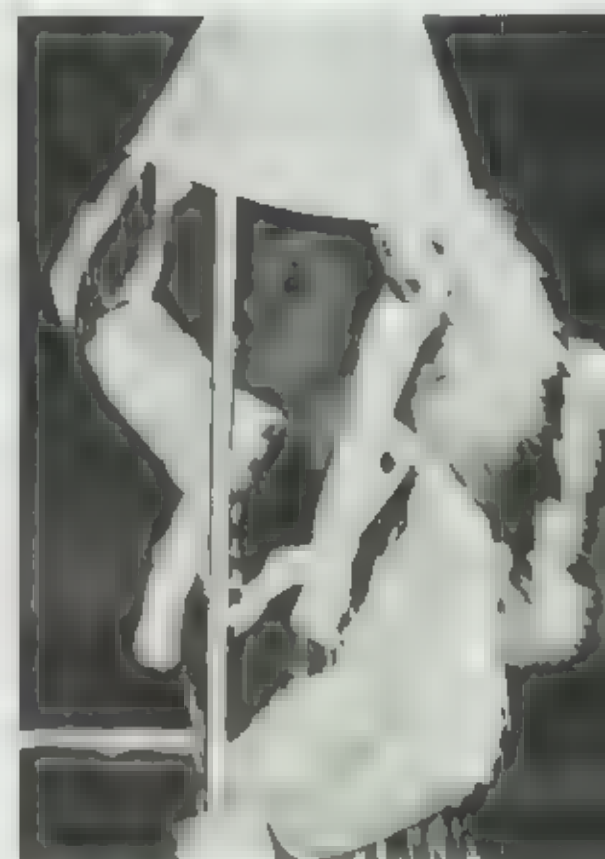

Tall Flags was a squad with a special spirit and a special talent. It took hard work and skill to put together the fabulous routines Tall Flags performed.

Led by advisor Bonnie Paisley, Captain Lisa Gilliam, and Lieutenant Kim Wrona, the squad practiced throughout the summer. Said Wrona, "Bonnie was away on a tour so a lot of the work was given to the captains. It was a great leadership experience." Even though they were led by their peers, Tall Flags pulled through the summer due to their superior twirling talent.

Using some of their interesting half time routines, Tall Flags entered several competitions with the band and Drill Team. Although they placed fourth in the La Habra Field Competition, the squad improved to take second place at the Orange Field Competition.

Said Gilliam, "Overall, it's been a fantastic year!"

DRILL PERFECTS PRECISION

Drill Team's first competition, the La Habra Field Competition, was on October 27, 1985. They did a superb job, placing second, missing first place by three hundredths of a point. This score is indicative of Drill Team's success.

The year of achievement actually started in the summer. The squad practiced from 8:00 to 12:00 in the afternoon, perfecting the routine they would eventually perform at Hibbard's All-American Camp. Besides placing in competition, the squad earned a first place for spirit.

Drill Team performed superbly during football season, adding their own special style to their routines. During basketball Super Squad and Drill Team put on a dazzling display at the Winter Formal assembly.

Captain Mia Mazza and Lieutenant Julie Harris both felt this year's squad was special. "We did a great job, because we all worked together," said Harris. Added Mazza, "It's been a blast on Drill Team, the best year I've had."

BUSINESS

Mr. Armijo, our dedicated leader of the Business Department, has built the FUHS department up so well that it is bursting at the seams with new machinery, computers and the basic skills of great teaching. A business education is a great education and there is no other place to start that education than at the FUHS Business Department. Students are taught basic skills on how to be better equipped to face the future. All students are proud to receive such great education.

MATHE

The Math Department, as always, has enabled students to further their experience with numbers! With such teachers as Mel Bennet, Don Houser and Greg Haake, students are challenged to tackle difficult math problems. Geometry, Algebra I and II, and Trigonometry.

MATICS

are among the courses offered at FHS. For students with learning disabilities, classes are geared to take steps slower. On the other hand, students who excel in math, have an opportunity to participate on the math team that competes at various colleges.

Mr. Houser's Algebra II class is composed of very diligent students.

Mr. Bennet is magical when it comes to helping students.

"WEIRD" SCIENCE

All kinds of interesting things happened in the Science Department this past year. Biology students got the opportunity to observe plants grow, and learn about heredity. In chemistry, strange mixtures of chemicals were concocted. Human Anatomy classes had the enviable task of dissecting sharks, mudpuppies and rats. Students tested the frequency of electrical currents in Physics. The department succeeded due to the efforts of dedicated teachers, led by department head Keith Bradshaw.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Department at FUHS was very productive. The drama classes, led by Paul Bucastein, showed their skills, and performed in several plays throughout the year. The choir and Vocal Ensemble participated in many competitions, and put on two concerts for the school. These groups were instructed by Ron Perry.

Greg Haake was in charge of the band. The band members met before school and performed during sporting events. The band also entered several competitions. Arts, such as painting and drawing, were also an important part of the department.

Delicious smells waft across campus. The source of these smells (and other creative projects) was the Home Economics department. Courses offered included Creative Foods, Clothing, and Child Development. In all classes students learned through "hands-on" experience, they made their own gourmet dishes, created their own fashions, and took care of children. All courses are offered for different skill levels, from novice to advanced. Teacher Nancy Hunyadi presided over Home Economics as the department

AGRICULTURE

The Agriculture Department has the capability of giving students hands on learning. One may raise livestock for profit which the student is solely responsible for. Ornamental horticulture and floral culture is also offered. These nursery classes acquaint students with one of Orange County's main agricultural jobs. Business is a main aspect of agriculture where students learn the skills through marketing and the economic standpoint of raising and selling animals. FFA offers a great career guidance for a #1 industry.

PHYS

Physical education, as everyone knows, is a way for students to be introduced to a variety of sports. But it can also be used to signify a type of "pressure escape." Many sports are played at FUHS: softball, tennis, badminton, baseball ... the list goes on. Students are required to take at least two semesters ters of physical education. But many people enjoy escaping from the tedious classroom scene by involving themselves in fun PE classes. With great teachers such as Vernie Ford and George VanVliet, students can escape the pressure of school.

DEPT

Interesting classes, such as, Bible as Literature and Creative Writing are also offered. The department provides many chances for students to show their talents in poetry and writing contests. All in all, we are fortunate to have such a fine department!

SOCIAL SCIENCES

The Social Studies Department offered FUHS students the opportunities to find out about history and explore our nation today. Freshmen study the history of the world and learn how civilization has developed. Juniors focused on the history of America and such documents as the Constitution and Monroe Doctrine. Seniors studied the importance of the economy of the United States and the world. They also studied our American government — an in-depth study of the political systems in America.

DRIVER'S ED

Do you know how to park a car on a hill? If you do, you've probably taken the course called Driver's Education. This class lasts for a quarter and is required of all sophomores. In the class students learn about the skills involved in driving a car. Also part of the class is simulators, a practice driving exercise, and behind the wheel, which gives students the opportunity to drive a car with two sets of instruments (one for the student and one for the instructor). Once completed, students may get their cherished licenses.

ORAL COMMUNICATIONS

Along with Health and Driver's Education, Oral Communications is one part of three classes required to pass in order to meet graduation requirements. The class is full of great opportunities in public speaking, or just how to get points across in a formal or informal way. Students are encouraged to speak in front of their classmates on different subjects that interest them. The basic purpose of this class is to be able to break the barriers of shy students and outgoing students of getting used to being the center of attention.

ANNUAL CLUB

Annual Club — what a group! Made up of all those neat people who put together this year's book, the club had more fun than any other on campus! (After all they got to see all the pictures before anyone else!) However, being in the club also meant work — fund-raisers were necessary to help raise money for an end-of-the-year pizza party. Their biggest accomplishment, however, was the last dance of the year, and the attendant slide show. Seniors Deb Jones and Carrie Thomas spent hours supervising the music and pictures for the show. Oh — one more thing enjoy the annual — YOU made it all happen.

AQUATICS CLUB

The Aquatics Club reached their impressive goals for the year. A major activity was to deliver telephone books to the local community. Their fund-raisers helped support both the swim and water polo teams by providing referees, tournaments and their summer trip to Hawaii. BIG F

Big F has made a tremendous turn around this year. It has grown from a group of approximately 12 girls to one of 15. Our main objectives are to raise money to buy new uniforms and equipment to help send girls to summer camps, and to host two annual banquets to recognize girl athletes from all sports. An added plus to our club this year is that, to those who meet all of the specified requirements, Big F will buy their varsity jackets. (Front to back) L. Kim, K. Heisinger, Q. Agee, L. Brunner, J. FREE CLUB

The Free Club is a new club at FUHS this year. Led by President Arthur Castle, the club's goal is to allow its members to voice their opinions on everything from political issues to religious issues. It's name is what it implies — a "free" for all!

GUITAR CLUB

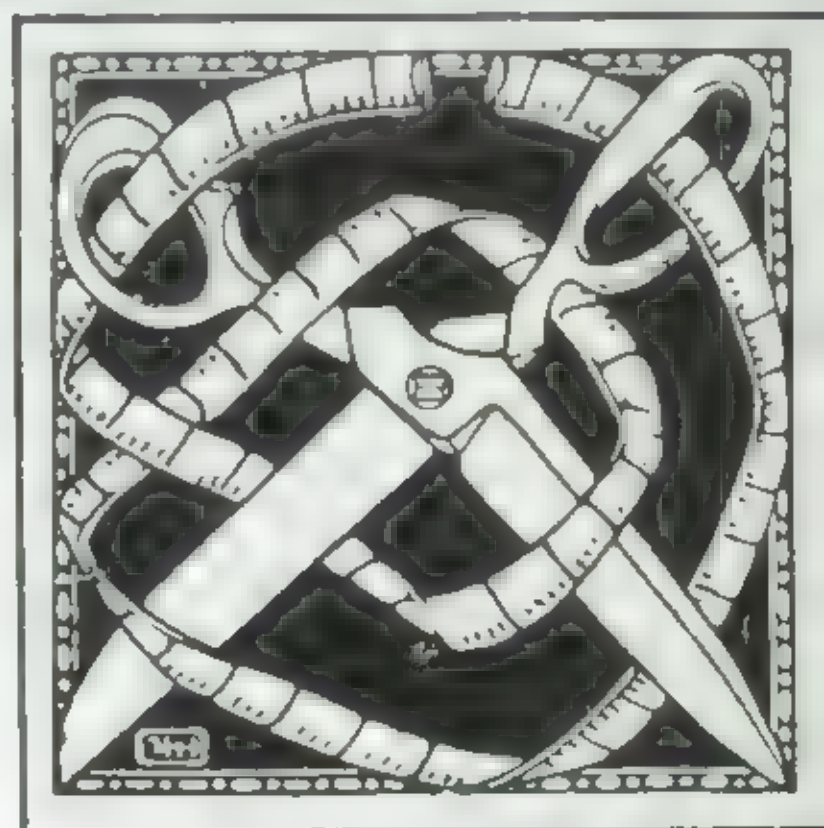

Never before has FUMS had a Guitar Club. This club was dedicated to the playing and appreciation of guitar oriented music. Their activities included trips to Fullerton College to enjoy some of the finest jazz, blues, and contemporary musicians in Orange County and fundraisers to benefit the school, community, and some of the more virtuosic members of the club. This club provided an opportunity for guitar players and appreciators to gather together for musical fulfillment.

HOME EC CLUB

The Home Economics Club consisted of many happy homemakers. They indulged in cooking, sewing, and other activities. The group of community conscious people sold cookbooks to raise money for the home for battered women and children. FIDM helped put added fashion emphasis into the member's garments. They attended fashion shows and meetings at the college.

IDAKAS

idakas has always been a helpful group of girls. They prided themselves in their community and school service. A family like closeness was felt at all gatherings, like potlucks, meetings, and other activities. The club gave young ladies a chance to put their caring hearts to work in the community.

INTERACT CLUB

Service at the school, community, and national level was what the Interact Club thrived on. This group was a student branch of the Rotary Club. This year's start of the two-year-old club was slow, but by Christmas they picked up their pace with a Christmas party for shut-ins at the Elks Lodge.

PHOTO CLUB

1986's Photo Club provided students who shared a mutual enjoyment towards photography to meet and express their love for the hobby. It gave the students who cherish photography an opportunity to view each other's work and a chance to visit many college campus photographic facilities including USC's filming studios.

NEWSPAPER

Quill and Scroll is an exclusive club consisting of students on the FUHS newspaper staff. The Pleides staff needed to do more than research and write stories, they, like most other clubs, found it necessary to hold fundraisers. The members could often be found in a nervous state of panic the day before their deadlines. It was because of the efforts of these students that FUHS received an excellent monthly newspaper.

(front to back) Leslie Putman, Kim Hespe, Greg Mascia, Dave Northcutt, Stacy Freeberg, Jim Biardi, Porsche Shantz, Perry Bruce, Lee Irons, Josh Miller, and Doug Winingham.

RUNNING CLUB

Running club was an active athletic club that did much more than represent our school in track meets. Craig Burnard, President, led the club in fundraisers to purchase equipment. The ultimate goal of this enthusiastic group was to make Fullerton's Track and Field athletes the best in the league.

SKI CLUB

This year was filled with two festive adventures for the members of the Ski Club. This club consisted of about one hundred "wild and crazy" people that enjoyed everything they did - including the fundraisers that helped get them to Utah and Colorado for their ski vacations during the Christmas and Easter breaks. Christa Kiter and Julie Ramsay (President and Vice-President) organized these exciting events to make the ski club a successful one.

THESPIANS

Many hours of hard work are required to become a member of the FUHS Thespian troop. These talented drama students must earn ten Thespian points by assisting in various activities to be accepted into this group. Their dedication is reflected in their production of several exciting plays a year as well as impromptu performances for the entire school.

MAGIC CLUB

Feats of legerdemain and illusions are performed whenever the Vanishing Indians get together during the noon hour. This is to say that tricks are performed for entertainment purposes only. The club has no interests in any areas related to the occult, and all such practices are prohibited at club meetings. No claims are made for the existence of extra-sensory perception, although ESP may be used as a theme of an impressive trick.

H₂O POLO CLUB

The Waterpolo Club focused its interests on providing for the needs of the waterpolo teams. This past summer, the group went amphibious and dropped by local houses with cups. Despite all the rejections, they showed up grinning with about $1300 for their efforts to pay for new hats and ear guards. Money from this club also funded repairs, suits, and the club's summer trip to Hawaii.

YOU'VE COME A LONG WAY

A PRINCIPAL WITH PRIDE

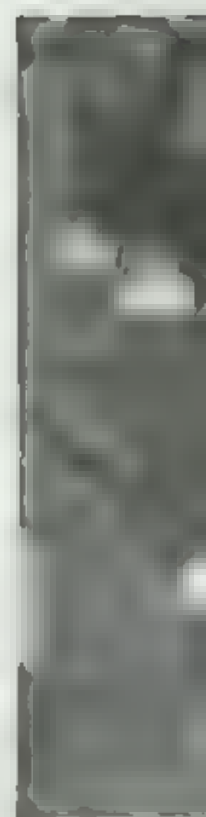

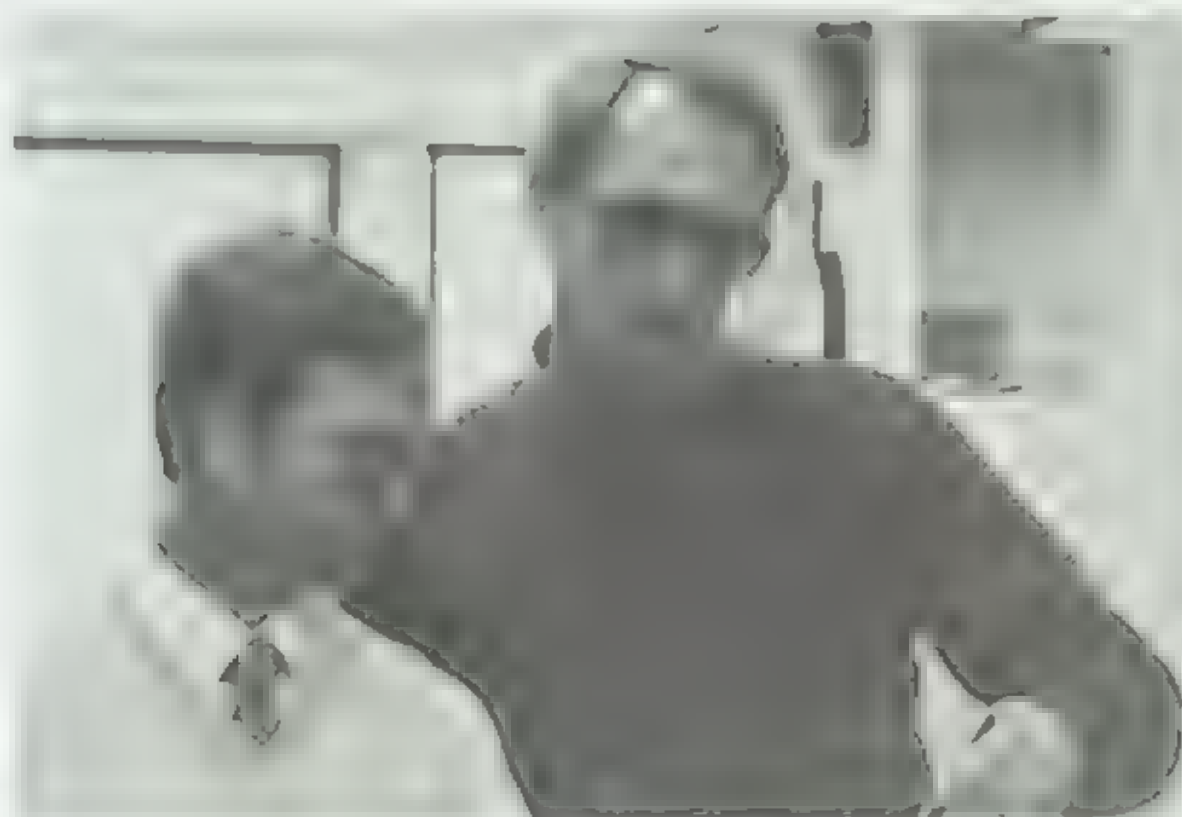

This is Dr. Gobar's second year as principal of Fullerton High School. She has worked as a teacher, counselor, and assistant principal at several schools; however, she finds the Fullerton High students to be the friendliest, most cooperative, and the most spirited of any group she has ever worked with. Her goals are to maintain and improve upon the reputation for excellence that Fullerton High School has in academics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities.

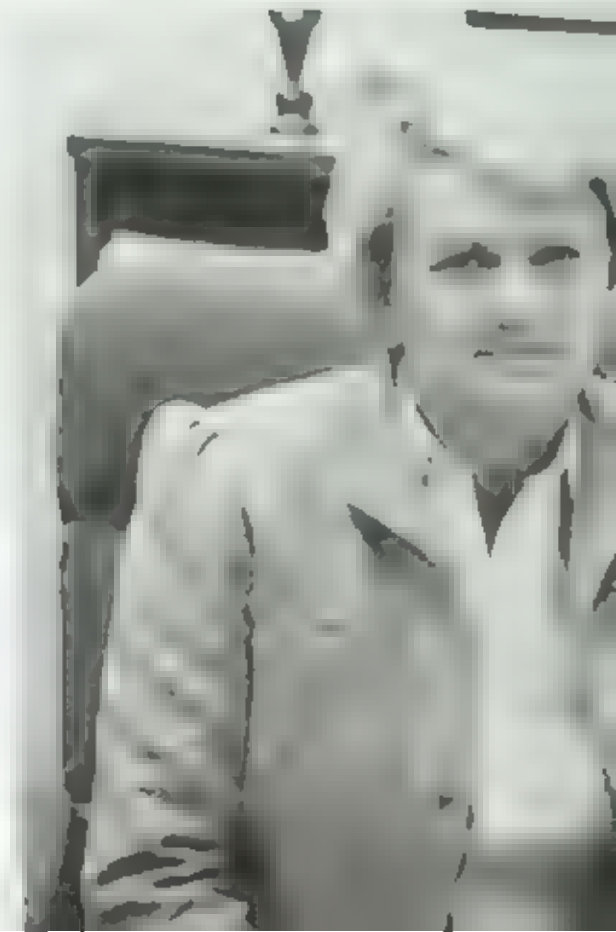

ACADEMICS

Mr. Ron Gross has a very important job. As Assistant Principal, one of his responsibilities is to be in charge of instructions and operations. He is the coordinator of the academics program, which includes interviewing new teachers and coordinating new classes. Whenever Dr. Gobar is off campus he acts as principal. On top of all this, he is also in charge of the physical plant of the school.

ACTIVITIES

Ms. Jackie Reedy only served as Assistant Principal at FUHS for a short time. One of her main responsibilities while she held the position was to supervise and direct all activities. Ms. Reedy left after Christmas vacation to help take part in the "magnet program" at Troy High School. Her position is now being filled by the capable Louis Porter.

STUDENTS

Don Morrison is a relatively new addition to the FUHS administration. He holds the position of Assistant Principal. He is in charge of discipline, and he can often be seen walking around the FUHS campus, making sure everything is well at school. Look for him the next time an orange fight breaks out at lunch!

FAMILIAR FACES IN NEW PLACES

Fred Hardy became Head Counselor in December when Mr. Porter was promoted. Before this, Hardy was in charge of Chapter I, a special program for remedial students. Also pictured here is Cheri Hansen, who filled the counselor position vacated by Porter.

Vida Northup serves FUHS as a counselor. Besides counseling, Ms. Northup is an advisor for the Varsity cheerleading squads. Northup is a UCLA alumni, and she enjoys her job. She is very involved in school life and she works with students extensively. She is a real asset to FUHS.

Louis Porter served as Head Counselor for the first part of the school year. He moved up to Assistant Principal in January to take Dr. Reedy's place. Porter was picked out of a field of applicants for his position.

Friends

CONTINUING ON...

Now the year begins to wind down. Friends scribble notes into each other's yearbooks. Teachers give up trying to teach in the last few days of school. At last the tardy bell rings for the last time and then, 57 minutes later, a miracle occurs. Across the campus a buzzing is heard as the dismissal bell rings for the final time, until three months later it is revived—rejuvenated for another nine months of toil.

A louder buzzing grows—this time the shouts and cries of students. Expressions of joy on their faces, tears in some of the eyes, they look forward. And some look back.

Thousands of footfalls bombard the ears. Engines cough and sputter to life in the parking lots as students and teachers prepare for three months of recuperation.

With a metallic clash the last locker slams shut for the final time. The sound of a single set of footsteps slowly recedes into the distance—a symbol of the conclusion of one journey, but also the beginning of another.

Lying in wait for some are a further three years at Fullerton High. Others need last through only two, or even one. And some are leaving for good, heading separate ways. All of them have many more steps to take. A longer journey lies ahead—the journey of success.

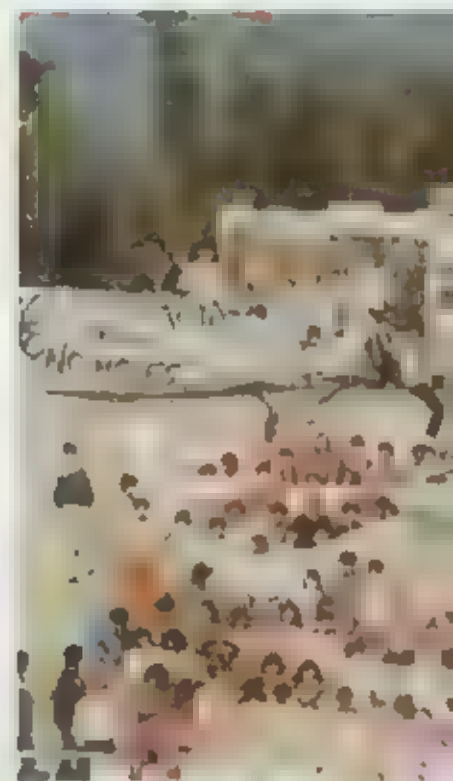

As the year concludes, Freshmen trot along with joy and no longer give upperclassmen such a wide berth. Or stand for being called a "scrub."

Sophomores trudge along, looking forward with dread to their junior year—the U.S. history, the English, and the one year more to survive before becoming a senior.

Juniors heave a sigh of relief and dash out to their new domain—Seniors' Corner—to start the party that is to last for twelve months.

And seniors stride out to meet the freeway of real life with knowledge, confidence, and just a little fear.

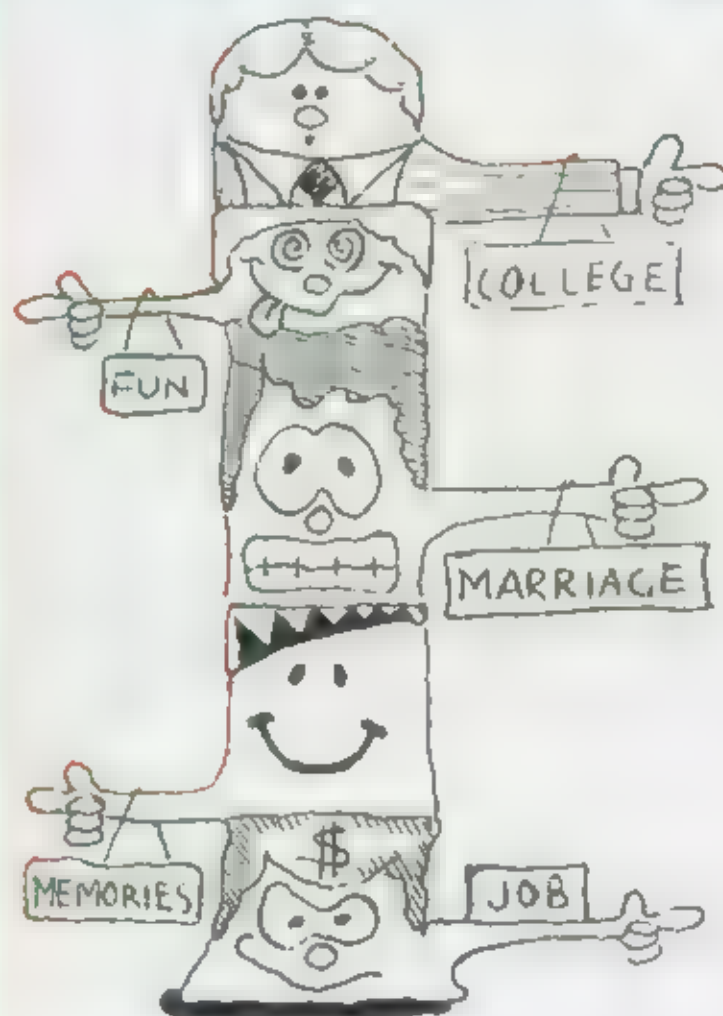

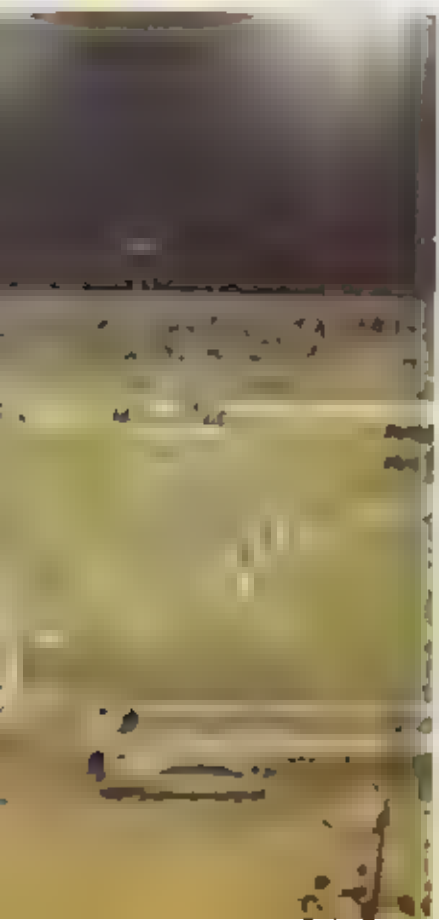

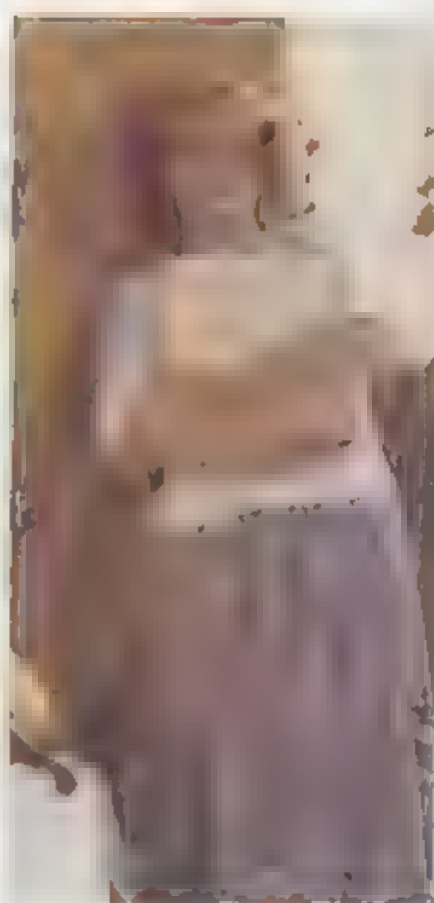

For this year the road has come to an end. It has brought us laughter and tears, fear and relief. There have been triumphs, and there have been defeats. New friends have been made and some old friends have grown apart.

But in a larger sense, the trek goes on. Each one of us will put one foot in front of the other and march on in whichever direction we chose. Many of us will follow the well-worn paths and a few adventuresome souls will blaze new trails. Some will find rewards, and some will find difficulties.

But no matter what path is taken—college, a job, or further years of high school—success is a journey, not a destination.

TO OUR CURT

You're reaching deep inside you
For things you've never known
It's been rough, tough going
But you haven't gone alone

In the years ahead, there will be friends you miss, as well as a campus you've grown to love
It may not of been exactly like "home", yet surely has offered you moments of bliss

With you these memories will be, as well as the wisdom and knowledge gained. Add to them modesty tolerance, patience, and love, and you'll possess
the secret to be happy and free

Thanks for wonderful memories

DEAREST STACY

From pony tails to prom dresses
The time has gone so fast

You've given us happy memories
That for the rest of lives will last

Short flags/tailflags, class offices, Pleiades, Honor roll, EV Free, Yearbook, Pepperdine, and all the rest
we know in each endeavor, you did your very best

Your development and growth has been exciting for us to see
Humor, compassion, Faith are all parts of your personality

Continue to develop the traits, and remember as you do
Each and every one of your family has a tremendous pride and love for you

Hugs and kisses
Mom, Dad, Jennifer, and Logan

Don't ever be afraid to try to make things better
You might be surprised at the results
Don't ever forget that achievement isn't as hard as it seems
Don't ever stop loving, don't ever stop believing,
Don't ever stop dreaming your dreams
Thanks for all the memories, Fullerton

Bravo Paul

Met a lot of wonderful people here at F.U.H.S. and feel very grateful. Loved every minute of it. Now I'm in the last semester of my senior year and am looking forward to continuing my education beyond the high school level. I have applied to four colleges which include UC UC & Cal Poly Pomona and Cal State Fullerton. My interests are focused toward the Irvine campus. If accepted I would like to earn a bachelor's degree in Economics and soon enroll in their Master's Program to earn an M.B.A. I hope God can help me accomplish it!

Karen Bretz

Bretz Karen

I'd like to say that in the 4 yrs. I've been here I've learned 2 things: how to live through Mr. B., Mrs. C., Mr. P. & Mr. Davis at the same time and how to write my mother's name better than she does. I'll miss the whole Mrs. A fan club (Luv Bl. GW,

During my four years in Fullerton High School I have accomplished many things that I wanted when was in Jr. high. I wanted to know a lot of things about working in an office. I accomplished two years of typing, one year in office skills, and one year in office occupations. All of these courses have prepared me to start working in an office. I know that these courses will be with me all my life.

I have learned this poem that seems to write: "I walked a mile with pleasure she chatted all the way but left me none the wiser-for all she had to say-I walked a mile with sorrow-and never a word she said-But oh, the thing I learned-from her when sorrow walked with me." This poem written by R.B.

years have gone past Everyone has learned the
